No 543-S (3)—The following Order of His Majesty in Council, dated the 22nd March 1928, is hereby published for general information —

AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE

The 22nd day of March 1928.

PRESENT

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

Whereas by Section 445 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, it is enacted that where the Board of Trade certify that the laws and regulations for the time being in force in any foreign country and relating to overloading and improper loading are equally effective with the provisions of that Act relating thereto, His Majesty in Council may direct that on proof of a ship of that country having complied with those laws and regulations, she shall not, when in a port of the United Kingdom, be liable to detention for non-compliance with the said provisions of that Act, nor shall there arise any liability to any fine or penalty which would otherwise arise for non-compliance with those provisions .

And whereas by Section 1 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1906, provision, as is more particularly therein mentioned, is made for applying to foreign ships when in ports in the United Kingdom certain sections of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, which relate to loadline, without prejudice to any direction of His Majesty in Council given under the said Section 445 of the last-mentioned Act

And whereas the Board of Trade have certified that certain statutory regulations, which have been approved by the Portuguese Government relating to overloading, so far as regards the assignment of loadlines to Portuguese ships are equally effective with the corresponding regulations in force in this country respecting the assignment of loadlines to British merchant ships

Now, therefore, His Majesty in Council doth direct that on proof that Portuguese ships have complied with the aforesaid Portuguese regulations, such ships shall not, when in ports of the United Kingdom, be liable to detention for non-compliance with the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Acts relating to overloading, nor shall there arise any liability to any fine or penalty which would otherwise arise for non-compliance with those provisions.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION IN THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1927.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Police Department.

CALCUTTA, THE 30TH JUNE 1928

RESOLUTION—No 3316 PI

READ—

The Report on the Police Administration in the town of Calcutta and its suburbs for the year 1927

The office of Commissioner of Police was held by Sir Charles Tegart, KT, CIE, MVO, throughout the year

2 Strength.—The sanctioned strength at the end of 1927 was 391 officers and 5,230 men There were 22 vacancies in the officers' ranks and 271 in the men's The latter figure is slightly less than that for 1926, although there was an increase of 101 in the sanctioned strength of the rank The number of enlistments, however, was about 300 less than in the previous year, and the rejection of 408 new recruits after the first examination by the Police Surgeon and of 93 before the completion of six months' training indicates that the conditions of service are not sufficiently attractive for the type of men required for service in Calcutta The Governor in Council has, therefore, decided to ask the Legislative Council for a grant which will make it possible to increase the scale of pay of a constable from Rs 18 to Rs 22 per month to Rs 22 to Rs 26 per month with effect from September of the current year It is hoped that one result of such an increase will be a decrease in the wastage among the lower ranks with a consequent saving of expenditure It is also hoped that men will remain longer in the force than at present when the proportion of constables of over ten years' service is only about 20 per cent The Governor in Council is pleased to read that the state of health of the force was so good, the average daily percentage of sick being only 2 6 His Excellency in Council has read with pleasure the tribute which the Commissioner of Police has paid to Major De, who recently held the appointment of Police Surgeon, and congratulates him on the excellent work which he has done

3 Housing.—The housing of the police has a very important bearing on their health, and the Governor in Council is pleased to learn that the town building scheme has made satisfactory progress and that it will soon be possible to vacate the last of the unhealthy buildings in which for want of Government buildings it was so long necessary to house the town police Proposals regarding new buildings for the suburban police are now under the consideration of Government, and it is hoped that a comprehensive programme will shortly be formulated

4 Crime statistics.—A decrease of more than 33 per cent in the number of true cases of robbery as compared with 1926 bears testimony to the efficacy of the Goondas Act, since the introduction of which in 1923 the number of such true cases has fallen from 122 to 19 The number of reported burglary cases (675) was practically the same as in 1926 (673), but there was an increase of about 9 per cent in the number of "true" cases of theft On the other hand, there was a gratifying increase in the proportion of the value of stolen property recovered to the total value of property stolen

5 Political crime.—The Governor in Council agrees with the Commissioner of Police that although there were no overt acts of terrorism during the year, this was largely due to the vigilance of the police and their operations, though revolutionary methods of political agitation cannot yet be considered to have been abandoned

The exploitation of labour grievances by outsiders working under the guidance of foreign organisations for political rather than economic objects is a feature which demands very close attention

6 Communal tension.—Fortunately, there was no inter-communal rioting during the year, but there is no doubt that on several critical occasions a breach of the peace was prevented only by the elaborate precautions which were taken, and the Governor in Council trusts that the public of Calcutta will appreciate the excellence of the dispositions made by the Commissioner of Police and the loyal discharge of their duty by officers and men who had on several occasions to remain at their post for many hours without rest

7 Traffic.—The Governor in Council has read with great interest that portion of the report which deals with traffic in Calcutta The increase in the number of motor vehicles is striking, and the popularity of the motor bus appears to have become firmly established With the development of motor traffic, the difficulty of control has increased in Calcutta as in other large towns, and problems in Calcutta and other cities in India are further complicated by the amount of slow-moving traffic The Governor in Council trusts that in his next report the Commissioner of Police will comment on the working of any new methods introduced on the recommendation of the traffic expert whose services were borrowed from the Metropolitan Police

8 The Governor in Council has read with pleasure the list of officers whose good work has been brought to his notice He thanks the Commissioner and all ranks of the force for their devotion to duty and congratulates them on the excellence of their work

ORDER —Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police Calcutta, the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta, and the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, for information

Ordered also that a copy of the resolution and a copy of the report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department

Ordered also that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette

2. Subject to the provisions of Rule 3 every person to whom these Rules apply (hereinafter referred to as a subscriber) shall with effect from the date of his arrival in India be liable for contributions and payments of the amount and under the conditions prescribed by the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Rules, and his widow and orphans, if any, shall be entitled to benefits of the amount and under the conditions prescribed by those Rules.

APPENDIX.

Extract from the Premature Retirement Rules (8th November 1921).

12.—(1) A member of the Indian Civil Service who retires under these Rules may adopt, at his option, any one of the three following methods of retaining for his wife and children benefits admissible under the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Regulations, namely:—

(a) He may cease to make any contributions and payments under the regulations, and shall then retain only the right to a proportion of the contingent benefits under the regulations for his wife and children existing on the date of retirement, and for any children subsequently born to that wife. This proportion shall be equal to the number of his completed years' total service divided by 25, and the calculation shall be based upon the pension admissible to the widow of an officer of the class to which he belonged at the time of his retirement.

(b) He may continue up to his 51st birthday to make contributions under the regulations at the rates payable by him at the date of retirement, and shall then retain the right to the full contingent benefits admissible under the regulations, according to his class on the date of his retirement, for his wife existing at the date of retirement, and for any children by her, whether born before or after retirement. Under this alternative, subscriptions will be payable under the ordinary regulations for each child, whether born before or after retirement. In the event of the death of the wife, subscriptions at the bachelor rate appropriate to the subscriber's class on retirement will be payable until age 51.

(c) He may continue up to his 51st birthday to make contributions and payments under the regulations at the rates which would have been payable by him from time to time had he remained in the Service. In that case he shall retain the full benefits admissible under the regulations as if he had remained in the Service until death or retirement with an ordinary pension.

Provided that, in the event of the officer failing to notify within three months of the date of his retirement the method selected by him, he shall be deemed to have elected the first of the above methods.

(2) The Secretary of State in Council shall make good to the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Fund under a suitable procedure any loss which may be estimated to be thrown upon it by the operation of this rule.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

A Bill to revise the Bengal Tenancy Act of 1885 was introduced in the Council on the 3rd December 1925 The necessity for amending the Act was explained in the "Statement of Objects and Reasons" (annexure to the present Statement) which prefaced that Bill The Council referred the Bill to a Select Committee consisting of 18 members, of whom 4 were officials This Committee after several sittings revised the Bill introduced in 1925 in many material respects, but the members were far from unanimous in their views, and 13 of them signed notes of dissent. Government were, therefore, unable to accept the Bill as revised by the Select Committee without further examination, the main reasons being—

(a) that it made no provision for any substantial rights for under-raiyats,
(b) that it declared that no cultivator who did not pay cash rent could be a tenant, and
(c) that it repealed the present provision by which a co-sharer landlord cannot hold lands in his own estate or tenure as a raiyat.

Government have since taken further advice and prepared the present Bill

2 In this Bill the view taken by the Select Committee that the full rights of an occupancy raiyat should not be given to all under-raiyats has been recognised Under-raiyats who have already got the right of occupancy by custom will, however, acquire occupancy rights now by Statute, and the incidents of such right have been defined, namely, that these under-raiyats will have, as against their immediate landlords, all the rights of occupancy raiyats except the new right of transferability, but they will not be protected interests under clause (d) of section 160.

3 The remaining under-raiyats have been divided into two classes—

(1) those who have held their land, including a homestead, for 20 years continuously, also those who have been admitted in a document by their landlord to have a permanent and heritable right,
(2) all others.

Both classes will be liable to ejectment on the grounds on which an occupancy raiyat is liable to ejectment under the present Act, i e, if they use the land in a way which makes it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy or have broken a contract which is consistent with the Act and also on one additional ground for arrears of rent.

The second class can also be ejected on the ground that their lease has expired on six months' notice. This, however, can only be done if the landlord requires the land for his own cultivation, and it has been explained in a proviso that for the purposes of ejectment of an under-raiyat cultivation by bargadars shall not count as cultivation by the landlord himself or by hired servants

Provision has been made for restitution of possession to the ejected under-raiyat in certain cases.

4 All under-raiyats will have the right to abandon their holdings under the same conditions and with the same safeguards that section 87 now provides in the case of occupancy rights They will also have the right to deposit their landlords' rent and prevent or set aside a sale by the court for the latter's arrears The two superior classes of under-raiyats will also have a right to claim recognition when their immediate landlord abandons his holding, on payment of a salami Similarly in cases of surrender the under-raiyat is protected Under section 86 no surrender will be valid unless made with the previous consent of the under-raiyat

5 The provisions regarding surrender in section 86 have been made applicable to under-raiyats with occupancy rights They have not, however, been extended to other under-raiyats

6 The initial rent of the under-raiyat is left to contract between the parties, but limits have been put on subsequent enhancements, viz.—(a) if made by contract, not exceeding 4 annas in the rupee and (b) if by court, not so as to increase the rent to more than ⅓rd of the average gross produce during the previous 10 years Rent once enhanced cannot be enhanced again within 15 years.

7 As regards produce-paying cultivators, it has been considered reasonable to recognise dhankararidars or cultivators who pay a fixed quantity of the produce as raiyats or under-raiyats, as the case may be. Bargadars or adhiars who have been admitted in a document by their landlord to be tenants or have been held by a civil court to be tenants will be recognised similarly as raiyats or under-raiyats, but other bargadars or adhiars have been excluded from the definition of tenant. This new provision will apply with retrospective effect even to those cultivators of this class who have been recorded in a record-of-rights as raiyats or under-raiyats, unless they come under the category described above. The provisions in the present Act regarding commutation of produce rent have been deleted in accordance with the view of the Select Committee to abolish commutation.

8 In view of the provisions now made for the improvement of the rights of under-raiyats, the Select Committee's view that a raiyati interest purchased by a co-sharer landlord should not merge, but that such landlord may hold the raiyati interest in his own estate or tenancy as a raiyat,—has been accepted. Several other changes which are more or less of a minor nature have been made in a number of sections The reasons for these changes have been explained in the notes on clauses

ANNEXURE.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS FOR THE BILL OF 1925.

Since the Bengal Tenancy Act was passed in 1885, there have been several amending Acts. Important changes were made for Western Bengal by the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1907, and for Eastern Bengal by the Eastern Bengal and Assam Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1908, but since then the amendments have been of a minor kind During the last twenty years the experience gained from litigation and from the preparation of records-of rights for areas covering two-thirds of Bengal has brought to light defects in the Act which require remedy, and has revealed changes in agrarian conditions which demand a substantial modification in the law.

2 In a resolution passed on the 7th July, 1921, the Bengal Legislative Council recommended the appointment of a Committee to consider and report what amendments were needed in the Bengal Tenancy Act The Committee was appointed by the Government of Bengal in August, 1921, and presented their report, together with a preliminary draft of a Bill to amend the Act, on the 19th December, 1922 The circulation of this draft for opinion produced many criticisms, and modifications have been made, but the present Bill is based substantially on the draft prepared by the Committee

3 The widespread practice of subdivision and subinfeudation of rights in land has necessitated the revision of the fundamental provision of the Act, by which the occupancy tenant right is limited to one person in the chain of those interested in the land. A common result of this limitation has been that the cultivating tenant, for whom this occupancy right was intended, has become a tenant-at-will under the holder of the occupancy right It is proposed in the Bill to meet this difficulty by giving to persons holding land under the tenant who enjoys the legal status of raiyat a right of occupancy as against his immediate landlord The Bill therefore provides for giving an occupancy right to the under raiyat, but such a right will not be a protected interest under section 160.

4 The difficulties in the existing law regarding the transfer of occupancy holdings were brought to the notice of Government by the High Court, which represented the desirability of legislation to make it clear whether, in the absence of a usage entitling a raiyat to sell his holding without the landlord's consent, such a sale is void ab initio or merely voidable at the will of the landlord It is proposed to recognise the prevalent practice and to give to the occupancy tenant a right of transfer At the same time it is desirable to secure to the landlord the premium which in most parts of Bengal he now levies as the price of his recognition of the transferee as his tenant, and also to protect him against undesirable tenants The Bill therefore includes provisions for the payment of a transfer fee to the landlord, and also gives him the right to have the holding transferred to himself on payment to the transferee of the consideration money and 10 per cent compensation The transfer fee will not be payable in the case of a transfer by bequest in favour of a natural heir, nor will the landlord have the right to purchase the holding if the transfer is of this kind or is made to a co-sharer in the tenancy

5 Under the existing law, the right of tenants in trees is left to custom, but the uncertainty of custom has led to much difficulty and litigation The Bill gives to the occupancy raiyat and occupancy under-raiyat complete rights in trees on his land, except that in the case of valuable trees a fee of one-fourth of the value is to be paid to the landlord when the tree is felled or disposed of

6 It is proposed to replace section 40 of the Act with a new section dealing with the commutation of produce-rents into money-rents, because the present section is not suitable to conditions in the province as now constituted The right to apply for commutation will be given to the under-raiyat having occupancy rights as well as to the raiyat It is proposed to except from commutation cases in which the landlord is dependent upon the produce-rent for his subsistence and other cases of a similar nature, and to provide in certain cases for the payment to the landlord of a premium as compensation for commutation.

7 The difficulties in the application of the law arising from the existence of several co-sharers, concerned in one tenancy either as landlords or tenants, have necessitated a simplification of procedure The Bill, therefore, on the one hand provides for the appointment of a common agent to act on behalf of joint or co-sharer landlords, and on the other makes co-sharer tenants jointly and severally liable for the rent of the holding, and provides that a decree for arrears of rent obtained against co-tenants who in accordance with the definition in the Bill, represent the entire body of the co-sharers, shall be valid against all the co-tenants Further, a co-sharer landlord is allowed to bring a suit for the arrears of rent due to him alone, making the other landlords parties as defendants and obtain a rent-decree valid against the entire tenancy.

8. When section 158A was introduced into the Bengal Tenancy Act in 1907, it was expected that a general system of maintenance of the record-of-rights would be introduced by Government, and it was intended that the privilege of the certificate procedure for the realization of rents should be granted only if the records were maintained by Government As such a system has not been generally introduced, it is proposed to remove this compulsory condition, but in its place to impose on Government the obligation of considering how the landlord himself maintains his record It is also proposed to make recoverable by the same procedure the fees payable to landlords on the transfer of tenures and holdings and the dues mentioned in section 193 of the Act

9 Of the other changes proposed in the Bill, the more important are the simplification of the procedure in connection with the transfer of permanent tenures, the repeal of Chapter XII of the Act, some simplification of judicial procedure and the reconciliation of differences between the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1907, and the Eastern Bengal and Assam Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1908. These and other minor and consequential changes are explained in detail in the Notes on Clauses

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2.—In the proposed sub-section (3) of section 1, references to areas outside the Province have been deleted, and the areas to which the Act does not apply have been definitely mentioned, thus avoiding reference to the Scheduled Districts Act

In clause (ii) of the proposed sub-section reference is made to the areas which have been added or may be added to Calcutta under the present Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, but it has been made clear that the Bengal Tenancy Act does not cease to apply to such areas or to the areas of other municipalities unless a special notification has been made to that effect, and in accordance with the recommendation of the Select Committee on the 1925 Bill a proviso has been added requiring previous publication of the intention of Government and a resolution of the Bengal Legislative Council before the issue of any such notification.

Clause 3 - Sub-section (2) of section 2, which refers to Orissa, has been omitted

Clause (4)—Sub-clause (a) —The Select Committee's view that no class of produce-paying cultivators should be treated as tenants under clause (3) of section 3 has been followed, but exception has been made in favour of dhankararidars i e, persons paying a fixed quantity of produce, and also persons already recognized as tenants by their landlords or by the Civil Court

Sub-clause (b).—This is consequential to the repeal of Chapter XII regarding distraint (vide clause 88)

Sub-clause (c) —The definition of "holding" in clause (9), of section 3 has been extended to under-raiyats

Following the Select Committee's proposal the definition has been further amended so as to include an undivided share of a parcel of land, provided it formed the subject of a separate tenancy

Sub-clause (d) - Of the alternative definitions of "village" in clause (10) of section 3 in the Western Bengal and Eastern Bengal Acts, the Eastern Bengal form has been adopted with necessary modifications

Sub-clause (e) — This sub-clause defines the "agricultural year" in clause (11) of section 3 as the Bengali year This year is in force throughout Bengal, except in a part of Midnapore and in Chittagong It is desirable to make the year uniform throughout Bengal for the purposes of the Act

It is proposed in clause 131 to rearrange the definitions in section 3 in alphabetical order

Sub-clause (h) —The expression "complete usufructuary mortgage" appears in several places in the Bill It is therefore convenient to explain the expression once for all in a definition, and this has been done in the proposed clause (19) in section 3

The expression "cost of transmission" also appears in several places with reference to landlords' fees, etc, and it has also been defined in the new clause (20) in section 3

Clause 5.—No change has been made in section 4 or section 5, except that the words "servants or labourers" in sub-section (2) of section 5 have been substituted for the words "hired servants" as suggested by the Select Committee

Clause 6 —The amendments of section 8 and section 36 give Courts greater powers of discretion as regards progressive enhancements The total enhancement may be distributed over ten instead of five years in any way the Court considers fair It is definitely stated in section 36 that for purposes of future enhancement the full rent shall be deemed to have come into force from the date of the decree

Clause 7 —This addition has been made to section 9 in order to remove any misapprehension by the Courts as to the application of the section when there have been gradual enhancements

Clause 8—Sub-clause (1) (a) —The system of paying landlords' fees in the case of permanent tenures has not been changed materially It is obviously unnecessary for the purchaser to pay a fee if he himself is the sole landlord, hence the amendment (a) in sub-section (2) of section 12.

Sub-clause (2) —The new sub-section (4) in section 12 allows Government to prescribe whether the fees should be paid in cash or in stamps

Clause 9.— Provision is made in sections 12 (3), 13 (2) and 15 for the service of the notice on, and the payment of the fee to, the common agent, who will be appointed under the proposed section 99A, vide clause 61

Clause 10 —The changes are verbal in the interests of consistency.

Clause 11.—The proposed proviso to section 15 allows the person succeeding to settle with the landlord direct instead of through the Collector

Clause 12.—This clause amending section 16 is consequential on the amendments made by clauses 13 and 88.

Clause 13.—The new section 16A in this clause makes it clear that the transferee of a permanent tenure includes his successors in interest.

Clause 14—Sub-clause (2).—New clause (b) (i) in the proposed sub-section (1) of section 18. The Select Committee's view that a raiyat at fixed rate shall be liable to ejectment like an occupancy raiyat, on the ground that he has used the land in a manner which renders it unfit for the purpose of the tenancy, has been accepted.

Sub-clauses (2) and (3).—Section 18 has been amended so as to make it clear that a raiyat holding at a rent or rate of rent fixed in perpetuity can acquire the status of a settled raiyat of a village and that certain sections of the Act shall not apply to such a raiyat

Clauses 15, 16 and 17 —These clauses reconcile the verbal differences in sections 18A and 18B between the Western Bengal Amendment Act of 1907 and the Eastern Bengal Amendment Act of 1908

Clause 18 —The period after which unclaimed landlords' fees are forfeited to Government has been raised in section 18C from three years to five years

Clause 19 —It is proposed to extend the Western Bengal section 19 to Eastern Bengal

A formal amendment is made in the reference to the Calcutta Municipal Act in sub-section (2) of section 19

Clause 20 – The existing section 22 prevents any landlord from holding lands in his own estate or tenure as a raiyat This was considered unfair in the case of co-sharer landlords So long as under-raiyats have substantial rights there is no reason why co-sharer landlords should not hold as raiyats holdings of which they have come into possession otherwise than by exercise of their own legal powers to realise rents in arrear Hence the existing sub-section (2) of section 22 has been omitted and a proviso to the new sub-section (2) of section 22 takes its place The new sub-section (2) in section 22 emphasises the change in the law in favour of co-sharer landlords The change in the wording of sub-section (3) of section 22 makes the original intention of the Act clearer An ijaradar cannot claim to have acquired either occupancy or non-occupancy rights

Clauses 21 and 22—The rights of raiyats regarding trees are not clear and they are practically left to custom which is variable in different parts of the Province The reference to "customary rights" in trees in section 23 has been deleted and a new section 23A has been inserted definitely specifying the trees in respect of which the landlord shall have sole rights, provided they were growing on the land before 1928 All rights in respect of all other trees rest in the raiyat The Select Committee's specification of the trees has been accepted and a sentence has been added to provide for the necessary license for the landlord to enter upon the land for the purpose of exercising his rights

Clause 23 —New sections 26A to 26J These sections deal with the question of the transferability of occupancy holdings The present law leaves the matter to local custom (vide section 183, Illustration), but as a matter of fact occupancy rights are freely transferred without reference to and without the knowledge of the landlord In most cases, the transferee secures recognition by going to the landlord either immediately after the sale or at a later period and paying him a salami and the arrears of rent due from the old tenant. The amount of salami is not fixed, and in some cases the landlord is unwilling for some reason or other to accept the transferee as his tenant, and the result is litigation on which no positive law can be applied The remedy proposed is to recognise the existing wide spread practice of transfer and to admit transferability of occupancy holdings subject to payment of a fixed rate of salami (called landlord's transfer fee) at the time of the transfer and to other safeguards necessary to protect the interests of the landlord and to secure the general welfare of the agricultural community The salami or landlord's transfer fee has been fixed at 25 per cent of the consideration money or six times the rent, whichever is greater This amount must be paid to the Registering Officer at the time of registration of the document together with the necessary fees for service of notice on the landlord and the prescribed cost of transmission of the money to him The transfer fee will be sent by the Registering Officer to the Collector who will cause the notices to be served on the landlord and the money to be paid to them or to their common agent, if any The transfer would be complete as soon as registration of the deed has been done, but the landlord may within two months of the service of notice upon him apply to the court for purchasing the holding for himself by paying the party who had purchased from the old tenant the full amount paid by him plus 10 per cent as compensation

Analogous provisions, with necessary modifications, have been made to meet cases of transfer by will or bequest or sale in execution of a decree

The transfer fee will not be payable in the case of a bequest in favour of natural heirs, e g, husband, wife or consanguine within three degrees.

No question of pre-emption arises in the case of exchange and the transfer fee in such case will be half.

In the case of rent-free holdings, the fee will be two rupees as in the case of rent-free tenures

Clause 24 —It has been considered reasonable that the landlord should be entitled to some enhancement of rent under clause (c) of section 30 when he bears a portion of the cost of an improvement

Clause 25 —The remarks in regard to clause 6 are applicable to this clause.

Clause 26 —This amendment of section 37 follows from the repeal of section 40 abolishing the commutation of produce-rent (vide clause 28)

Clause 27.—It is reasonable that where a raiyat has had his rent settled when certain arrangements in respect of irrigation or maintenance of embankments were in force he should receive a reduction of his rent so long as the landlord fails to carry out his obligations in this respect. The Select Committee suggested that it must also appear that the soil of the holding has as a result of such failure deteriorated Sub-section (1) of section 38 has been amended accordingly.

Clauses 28 and 29—Sections 40 and 40A have been repealed in accordance with the recommendation of the Select Committee that in the conditions prevailing in Bengal commutation of produce rent should be abolished

Clause 30—It is reasonable that a non-occupancy raiyat should be liable to ejectment on the expiry of his lease when he has been admitted to occupation under a written lease, whether the lease has been registered or not, and that he should be given six months' notice to quit when holding otherwise than under a written lease It is proposed to amend clause (c) of section 44 and to add a new clause (cc) accordingly.

Clause 31.—The amendments of section 46 are merely verbal.

Clause 32—Sections 48 and 49 have been recast as sections 48, 48A to 48H and 49 on the basis of the suggestion made by Mr. Chunder in his note of dissent attached to the Report of the Select Committee

The proposed section 48G follows the Select Committee's recommendation in providing that all under-raiyats who have already got occupancy rights by custom shall now have such rights by statute It has also been made clear which of the incidents of the holding of an occupancy raiyat would apply to such an under-raiyat

Excepting as already stated, occupancy rights have not been recognised for under-raiyats, but it has been definitely provided in sections 48C and 48E that the only grounds on which an under-raiyat may be ejected shall be—

(a) that he has failed to pay an arrear of rent,

(b) that he has rendered the land unfit for the purposes of the tenancy,

(c) that the term of his written lease has expired, or

(d) when there is no written lease, by six months' notice

The last two grounds (c) and (d) will not, however, apply if the under-raiyat has been in possession of the holding for twenty continuous years with a homestead thereon, or if a permanent and heritable right has been admitted by his landlord in a document The last two grounds [viz (c) and (d)] will not also apply unless the landlord requires the land for his homestead or for cultivation by himself.

The initial rent of an under-raiyat has been left to agreement between the parties (section 48) Subsequent enhancements may be made either by contract or by the court When by contract, the rent may be increased up to 25 per centum above the existing rent but not more frequently than at intervals of 15 years (section 48B), and when by the court, the increase may be up to the value of one-third of the average produce of the preceding ten years (section 48D)

The under-raiyat's holding will be heritable, but it will not be transferable except with the consent of the landlord (section 48F) As regards sub-leases, when a salami is stipulated, a fee equal to one-fourth of the salami is to be payable to the immediate landlord of the raiyat (section 48H)

An under-raiyat may enter into a complete usufructuary mortgage in the same manner as an occupancy raiyat (section 49) The intention is that section 26G (4) will govern under-raiyats also, and forbid any other form of usufructuary mortgage

Clause 33—In view of the special conditions of the raiyats in the colonisation areas in the Sundarbans, it is considered necessary that the provisions of section 49A regarding restrictions on alienation of land should be applicable to them, although the persons concerned may not strictly be aboriginals, and a new sub-section (5) has been added to section 49A for this purpose

Clause 34—The Explanation to section 49E (2) has been omitted and a definition of "complete usufructuary mortgage" has been proposed in sub clause (h) of clause 4

Clause 35—In order to meet certain doubts which have arisen, it is proposed to amplify sub-section (6) of section 52, in order to make it clear that an entry of an area in a document may be presumed to have been ascertained on measurement if it is shown that a practice of settlement after measurement was in use at or about the date on which such document was drawn up

Clause 36.—The amendment of section 54 is intended to remove the practical difficulties which at present discourage the tenants from paying their rents by money order and cause the landlords to dislike this system of payment It has been made clear that a tender made at the landlord's village office should be sufficient, and that a postal receipt of money-order would be presumed by the court as tender of rent by the tenant The Select Committee's proposal to insist on a Post Office certificate of the landlord's refusal to accept a rent money-order has not been adopted, because it would not be practicable to obtain such a certificate, and even if it could be obtained it would not be evidence unless formally proved

The main reason which makes the landlords reluctant to accept rents tendered by postal money-order, and thus discourages the tenants from making use of this method, has been removed by providing in sub-section (4) that the landlord's acceptance of such rent shall not be treated as admission or evidence as regards the particulars of the tenancy set forth in the money-order or operate as a waiver of his rights under the clauses relating to the transferability of occupancy holdings.

Clauses 37 and 38.—The amendments of sections 56 and 57 are consequential to the changes made in Schedule II in clause 132.

Clause 39—A sub-section (9) has been added to section 58 to make it clear what will not be a reasonable excuse on the part of the landlord for not granting a receipt or statement of account or for not retaining a counterfoil fully filled up

Clause 40.—Slight modifications have been made in section 61, in order to remove certain difficulties raised by the Courts and to make the wording more consistent with other sections

Clauses 41 and 42—Changes have been made in sections 63 and 64 in order to make it compulsory on the Courts in certain cases to send rents deposited under clauses (a) and (b) of section 61 by money-order to the landlord The drafting of section 63 has been amended

Clause 43—In order to prevent landlords from harassing tenants by means of suits for rent which the latter have already tendered by money-order or deposited in the Civil Court, it is proposed by the new section 64A to preclude the landlord from recovering in such suits damages, interest or costs, and also to make him liable for damages

Clause 44—Sub-clause (a)—The change here made in sub-section (1) of section 66 is consequential on the proposal to adopt the Bengali year for the whole province, vide clause 4 (e)

Sub-clause (b)—The period in sub-section (2) has been extended to thirty days

Clause 45—It is reasonable, owing to the circumstances in which damages are awarded, that such damages should not be less than the interest which would otherwise be given under section 67 The proposed second proviso to sub-section (1) of section 68 gives effect to this proposal The Select Committee's draft has been adopted

Clause 47—Following the Select Committee's proposal section 73 has not been repealed, but a proviso has been added that the transferor shall not be liable for arrears of rent if the transferee has agreed to pay the same and the fact has been mentioned in the instrument of transfer

Clause 48 This change in sub-section (3) of section 74 is consequential on the proposed change in section 179 (clause 115) which will make a contract for an abwab illegal in the case of permanent mukarrari tenures as well, but it is not proposed to interfere with existing contracts regarding such tenures

Clause 49—The Select Committee's proposal to include "provision of drinking water for the tenant" amongst improvements and to make it clear that a dwelling-house includes a masonry building has been accepted Section 76 has been amended accordingly

Clause 50—The amendments in section 77 embody the Select Committee's proposal that tenants of all descriptions including under-raiyats should have the preferential right to effect improvements

Clause 51—All the Committees have agreed that the rights given to raiyats in sections 78, 82, 83 and 87 should be extended to under-raiyats of all classes Similar changes have not been made in section 86, because the Select Committee did not agree that under-raiyats, except under-raiyats with occupancy rights (vide section 48) should have the right of surrender

Clause 52—Section 79 has been repealed as proposed by the Select Committee In view of the amendment of section 77, this section becomes unnecessary

Clause 53, sub-clause (a)—The insertion of the words "wholly or partly" in sub-section (1) of section 80 follows from the amendment of section 30 in clause 24

Clause 54—Section 85 regarding sub-letting by raiyats has been repealed, the position of under-raiyats being defined in the amendments of sections 48 and 49 (vide clause 32)

Clause 55—Sub-section (6) of section 86 has been amended so as to protect the under-raiyat by rendering it obligatory to have his consent before his landlord, viz, the raiyat, could surrender his holding.

Clause 56—The new section 86A as proposed in the Bill of 1925 has been adhered to with some slight drafting changes The object of the changes is to do away with difficulties as regards demarcation and consequent litigation or breaches of the peace when lands form and reform in a river. If a tenant has definitely taken abatement of rent for diluviated lands it is reasonable that he should lose all rights in those lands provided they do not accrete to any lands of which he is in occupation.

Clause 57.—The Select Committee omitted the new section 87A in the Bill of 1925, which was devised to give protection to existing occupancy under-raiyats in the event of the raiyat surrendering or abandoning his holding. Cases of surrender have been dealt with in clause 55 amending section 86 (6). As regards abandonment, the Select Committee's suggestion for a sub-section (5) to section 87 has been accepted with some drafting changes There is also this further change that the privilege of taking the raiyat's place under the superior landlord will apply not only to the first class of under-raiyats who had all the incidents of occupancy rights but also to the second class who have been admitted by their landlord to have a permanent right or who have been in possession of their holdings for over twenty years with a homestead thereon.

Clause 58—The Western Bengal form of section 88 has been adopted

Clause 59.—At present it is necessary when action is taken under section 93 to appoint a common manager for the whole of the estate or tenure concerned, though a dispute may exist in only a small portion. Under the section as amended by this clause it will be possible to appoint the common manager only for those portions of the estate or tenure which are affected by the dispute.

Provision is also made for enabling the tenants to apply for the appointment of a common manager in cases where, owing to the existence of a large number of small co-sharers in the estate or tenure, the tenants are put to inconvenience and harassment in the payment of their rent

Conditions (a) and (b) in the present section 93 which make the appointment of a common manager contingent on inconvenience to the public and injury to private rights have been omitted in accordance with the view taken by the Select Committee

Clause 61—In order to simplify matters in estates owned by a number of co-sharers it was proposed that the co-sharer landlords should appoint a common agent for the purpose of receiving—

(a) notices of transfer,
(b) fees on transfer,
(c) rent deposited in court under section 61.

If the landlords failed to appoint, the Collector could in certain circumstances do it

In accordance with the view of the Select Committee the provisions in the Bill of 1925 for the compulsory appointment of a common agent have been omitted

The provision regarding maintenance of a register of common agents by the Collector has been amplified and the procedure made clear

Clause 62—Under the new section 100 rules regarding managers who are appointed by the Civil Courts will be framed by the High Court, and rules regarding common agents of whom a register will be kept by the Collector will be framed by the Board of Revenue

Clause 63.—When a record-of-rights is prepared under section 101 it has been found necessary in practice to survey and deal with all lands agricultural or not All the provisions, however, apply to such lands and it has been made clear in the new proviso to section 101 (1) which provisions apply and which do not apply.

Clause 64—Sub-clause (ii)—It is necessary that any rights of pasturage, forest rights and rights over fisheries and the like should be recorded in the record-of-rights prepared. This is provided in the proposed clause (ee) in section 102

Sub-clause (iii)—The new proviso to clause (j) of section 102 is consequential on the changes made by clause 63 in section 101.

Clauses 65 and 67—The Eastern Bengal and Assam sections 103B and 104H have been adopted, as the wording is more precise. There is no material difference between the Western Bengal and Eastern Bengal sections.

Clause 68—The Eastern Bengal and Assam section 105 has been adopted here with the modification that it is proposed to allow four months instead of two months from the date of the certificate of the final publication for the filing of applications for the settlement of fair rents.

Clause 69—An addition has been made to section 105A, which will enable an issue to be framed regarding the rent payable at the time of the publication of the record-of-rights

Clause 70—This clause provides in the proposed section 105B for the levy of court-fees when an issue is raised under section 105A, on the same scale as would have been payable if the issue had been raised in a suit under section 106

The view in the Bill of 1925 that ordinarily it was inequitable to make the tenant pay the landlord's cost in a rent settlement case, besides having to pay enhanced rent, has been accepted and the new section 105C has been retained.

Clause 71.—The Eastern Bengal and Assam section 106 has been adopted with the modification that the time for filing suits has been extended to four months from the date of the certificate of the final publication

Clause 72—This clause makes certain changes which are consequential on renumbering (vide clause 77).

Clause 74.—A verbal change has been made in sections 108 and 108A—now section 115B—in order to make the sections more explicit

Clause 75—The proposed section 108A has been removed to the end of Chapter X and renumbered as 115B, in order to make it clear that it applies to proceedings under Part II of the Chapter The time within which bonâ fide mistakes in the record may be corrected has been extended from one year to two years

Clause 76.—A proviso has been added to section 109 so as to allow all issues raised in proceedings under sections 105, 105A and 106, which are not finally adjudicated on by the Revenue officers, being subsequently tried by the Civil Courts.

Clause 77.—It is proposed to insert a reference to section 115B (old number 108A) in section 109A, as the omission appears to be an error of drafting. As section 109A does not apply only to cases where a settlement of land revenue has not been made, it is proposed to remove it to the end of Chapter X and renumber it as section 115C. No appeal, however, is to lie to the Special Judge in proceedings for the settlement of land revenue, that is to say, under Part II of Chapter X.

Clause 78.—The Eastern Bengal and Assam section 109B has been adopted.

Clause 79.—It is proposed to make section 109C, which is in force in Western Bengal only, applicable to Eastern Bengal also, with the modification that it will no longer be necessary for an officer to be specially empowered by the Local Government for the purpose of this section

Clause 80—This clause brings together the various sections in Chapter X relating to notes of decisions in the finally published record-of-rights and co-ordinates the Western Bengal and Eastern Bengal law on the subject

Clause 81—The change made here corrects an error of drafting in section 110.

Clause 82—This amendment in clause (b) of section 111 is consequential to the raising of the period for cases under section 106 to four months (vide clause 71)

Clause 83—The Eastern Bengal and Assam section 111B is preferred, because Revenue officers should clearly be precluded from trying issues under section 105A, no less than issues under section 106, which are sub judice in the Civil Court.

The substitution of four months for three months is consequential on the amendment of section 106

Clause 84—Of the alternative forms of the Western Bengal and Eastern Bengal section 112, the Eastern Bengal form has been adopted Experience, however, shows that the provisions of this section can be defeated by the exaction of excessive rents pending the currency of the proceedings It is therefore proposed that such rents shall not be recoverable for the period of the proceedings

Clause 85—The Eastern Bengal and Assam section 115A has been adopted.

Clause 86.—It was resolved at a conference of District Boards, held in 1919, that tenants of any roadside lands should not be allowed to acquire occupancy rights in them. This clause therefore provides for the extension of section 116 to such and similar lands The reference to Bihar has been omitted.

Clause 87.—Corrects an error in spelling in section 120.

Clause 88—It is proposed to repeal the whole of Chapter XII on distraint, as it is not necessary in the province as at present constituted, where it is rarely used, and then probably only as a means of oppression

Clause 89—It is proposed to amend section 141, so as to enable landlords, subject to necessary safeguards, to bring one suit against the same tenant on account of the arrears of rent of more than one tenancy. It is also proposed to make it clear that a rent suit can only be brought in a court within the jurisdiction of which the lands of the tenure or holding are situate

Sub-clause (b) is intended to give additional facilities to landlords to recover rent from tenants

Clause 90—The necessity for a fresh petition or affidavit for the purpose of verification of pleadings has been done away with as proposed by the Select Committee. A proviso has accordingly been added to section 145

Clause 91.—The principles of the new sections 146A and 146B in the Bill of 1925 regarding joint and several liability of co-sharer tenants for rent were accepted by the Select Committee These make a decree in a rent-suit binding on co-tenants under certain circumstances, although they were not made parties The Select Committee considered that actual residence in the village of such co-tenants need not be a necessary condition but it should suffice if they have a homestead in it Sub-section (3) (i) of the new section 146A has been drafted accordingly.

The Select Committee also thought that the procedure for registering a co-sharer tenant's name through the Collector was likely to lead to complications Sub-section (4) in the proposed section 146A has accordingly been omitted, but sub-section (3) (iii) of that section has been revised so as to provide for cases in which the purchaser of or successor to a co-sharer tenant's interest has given notice under sections 12 (3), 26E, 26F or 15, as the case may be

The proviso to the new section 146B (1) enables a co-sharer tenant who has not been made a party and who may come to know of the case at a late stage to pay into the court the full amount of claim and be entitled to the benefits of section 171.

Clause 92.—The proviso to section 147 is consequential to the amendment of section 148A regarding rent-suits by co-sharer landlords and consolidation of such suits.

Clause 93.—Of the two alternative Eastern Bengal and Western Bengal forms of section 147A, it is proposed to retain the Eastern Bengal form with, however, the addition of sub-section (4) from the Western Bengal section, so as to safeguard the rights of third parties The drafting has been amended so as to bring it into conformity with the Code of Civil Procedure.

Clause 94.—The objects of the various changes proposed by this clause in section 148 are to co-ordinate the Eastern Bengal and Western Bengal forms of the law and to cheapen the procedure in rent-suits. The principal changes may be summarized as follows:—

(1) New clause (b 1). In areas where a record-of-rights has been prepared it is sufficient for the identification of the lands in suit, if the khatian number of the tenancy is given, and its area and rental: but where changes have occurred in the area, survey plots or rent since the record-of-rights these should be indicated in a statement [new clause (b 2)].

(2) Clause (d 1) has been inserted in accordance with the recommendations of the Select Committee. It omits the identifier in the service of process There will be no difficulty if these processes are permitted to be served by dafadars through Union Courts, inasmuch as the dafadars personally know the local people

(3) The Court may inform the natural gurdian of a minor defendant that he will be treated as the guardian, and, unless he appears and objects within 14 days, the Court may proceed with the suit on the assumption that the minor is properly represented [new clause (d2)]

(4) If the Court accepts or refuses a written statement, it must record its reasons —vide amendment of clause (e)

(5) In the new clause (f1) a simpler procedure has been provided for ex parte cases where the rent claimed is in accordance with the record-of-rights or a previous decree or registered lease This has been done in accordance with the views of the Select Committee following the recommendation of the Civil Justice Committee.

(6) Any party who files collection papers or extracts from records-of-rights as evidence may take them back for use in other cases, with the permission of the Court, and in that case copies of the relevant entries will be made and certified by the Court without charge and kept with the record of the case [clause (ff)].

(7) It has been made clear in clauses (f) and (fi) that in ex parte cases statements in plaints other than those about the amount of rent due should not be used against the tenant in any subsequent suit or proceeding It is expected that tenants knowing that they are safe in this respect will not trouble to defend rent suits in which the money is admittedly due

Clause 95—Proposes a new section for section 148A to meet the difficulties of co-sharer landlords in realising the rents through the Court. Briefly, it is proposed that a co-sharer landlord should be allowed to bring a suit for arrears of rent due to him alone, making the other co-sharer landlords parties defendants These co-sharer landlords would then have an opportunity of coming forward as plaintiffs, but if they do not, they will be debarred from getting any decree for arrears of rent for the period in suit.

Clause 96.—It is proposed by an amendment of section 153 to empower District Judges, Additional Judges and Subordinate Judges to exercise final jurisdiction in cases where the amount of rent claimed, including interest and damages, does not exceed Rs 200 instead of Rs 100 as at present, and specially to empower judicial officers below the rank of Subordinate Judges to exercise final jurisdiction in cases where the amount of rent claimed, including interest and damages, does not exceed Rs 100 instead of Rs 50 as at present.

Clause 97—This clause amends section 156 so as to make the rules which apply in the case of a raiyat ejected from his holding applicable in the case of an under-raiyat similarly ejected

Clause 99—When section 158A was introduced into the Bengal Tenancy Act in 1907, it was expected that a general system of maintenace of the record-of-rights would be introduced by Government, and it was intended that the privilege of the certificate procedure for the realization of rents should be granted to a landlord only if the record-of-rights was maintained by Government. As the idea of general maintenance has now been abandoned, it is proposed to remove this compulsory condition, but in its place to impose on Government the obligation of considering how the landlord himself maintains his record.

Clause 100.—It is desirable that the certificate procedure shall apply to the recovery of the amounts payable in respect of any rights of pasturage, forest rights, rights over fisheries and the like when the provisions of sub-sections (1) to (3) of section 158A have been complied with.

The insertion of section 158AAA is consequential to the repeal of section 158B (vide clause 101), its provision so far as regards rent-suits being covered by or spread into other sections.

Clause 101.—The portion of sub-section (1) of section 158B which relates to certificates for arrears of rent has been transferred to the new section 158AAA and placed under Chapter XIIIA. The rest of this sub-section is considered unnecessary in view of the new section 148A.

The provisions in sub-section (2) of section 158B have been inserted as sub-section (7) of section 148A, with necessary verbal changes—see clause 95.

Clause 102.—This clause amends section 159 so as to make it clear that the title of a purchaser of a tenure or holding in a sale in execution of a rent decree takes effect from the date of the confirmation of the sale in conformity with section 169 (1) (c)

Clause 103.—It has been considered necessary to make it clear that the right of a raiyat to hold at fixed rent when he has been holding at such rent from the time of the permanent settlement is not affected by rent-sale just as it is not affected by a patni-sale or revenue-sale. A new clause (ff) has accordingly been inserted in section 160, and the provisions of sub-section (2) proposed in section 160 in the Bill of 1925 have been added to it as an Explanation, with necessary verbal changes.

Clause 104.—The use of a single form for the order of attachment and the proclamation of sale of property is proposed, in order to simplify the procedure for the execution of rent-decrees It is also proposed, in lieu of the present law, which prescribes a large number of methods of publication of this notice, to insert in section 163 three essential methods of advertising the property for sale

Clause 105—This proposed amendment of section 166 is consequential upon the proposal in clause 14 to allow a raiyat at fixed rates to acquire the status of a settled raiyat.

Clause 106—The proposed amendment of section 167 regarding the date is consequential upon the proposed amendment in section 159 and in conformity with the present section 169 (1) (c)

Clause 107—The proposed amendments of section 169 are consequential upon those proposed in section 148A in clause 95.

Clause 108—Of the alternative section 170 now in force in Western Bengal and Eastern Bengal, respectively, the Eastern Bengal form has been adopted, in order to avoid possible hardship to persons interested in the tenancy who have not been made parties to the suit The change in sub-section (4) is consequential on the amendment of section 174 in clause 111

It is proper that the right to pay the amount requisite to prevent the sale should be extended to all persons whose interests are affected by such sale and not merely to persons whose interests are voidable upon the sale A necessary amendment has accordingly been proposed in sub-clause (2) of clause 108.

Clause 110—The present law does not permit the benefit of section 172 in cases in which an inferior tenant pays money into Court under section 174 to set aside a sale It is reasonable that he should have the same benefit and the Select Committee's amendment has accordingly been adopted.

Clause 111—Under the old section 174 the judgment-debtor alone can deposit the decretal amount but not any other person whose interests are affected by the sale These other persons have to apply under the Code of Civil Procedure This section is intended to cover the cases of all these persons also.

Sub-clause (3) of clause 111 is intended to prevent false and vexatious applications for setting aside sales

The Select Committee's view that an appeal should lie against an order setting aside or refusing to set aside a sale has been accepted in sub-section (5) of the proposed section 174

Clause 112—The proposed section 174A is necessary owing to the changes made in clause 111 as to the inapplicability of rules 89 and 90 in order XXI in Schedule I to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908

Clause 113—This clause brings up to date the reference to the Indian Registration Act in section 175

Clause 114—The changes proposed in section 178 are mainly consequential upon the general principles adopted regarding rights of under-raiyats and transferability. In particular, it is proposed to prevent any contract, whether made before or after the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Act, from taking away or limiting the statutory right of an under-raiyat as against his immediate landlord or the right of transferability of an occupancy raiyat or under-raiyat, or their rights regarding trees

It is also proposed to limit the right of a landlord to recover from a raiyat or under-raiyat as rent produce in excess of half the gross produce of the holding.

Clause 115—Under the present interpretation of section 179, conditions for abwabs [which are illegal under section 74 or section 77 (3)] or for interest on arrears of rent in excess of that allowed by section 67 can be embodied in permanent mukarrari leases It is proposed to make such conditions in future leases of this description invalid.

Clause 116—The existing provision regarding homesteads in section 182 leaves the law in a state of great doubt and uncertainty It is proposed, therefore, to provide generally that the homestead rights of a raiyat or under raiyat of the same or a contiguous village shall ordinarily be regulated by the provisions of the Act.

Clause 117—It is proposed to omit both illustrations to section 183 in view of the general principles adopted regarding transferability and the rights of under-raiyats.

Clause 118—The Indian Limitation (Amendment) Act, 1922 (X of 1922), appears to have made some changes in the law of limitation as regards cases under the Bengal Tenancy Act. It is proposed, however, to retain the substance of the law as at present in the Bengal Tenancy Act by the necessary changes in section 185.

Clause 119.—The omission of clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 186 is consequential to clause 88 abolishing distraint.

Clause 120.—This amendment of section 186A follows from the repeal of section 158B in clause 101.

Clause 121.—In the new section 188 it is proposed to extend the same principle underlying the amendment proposed in section 148A to a number of cases at present governed by section 188 of the Act, and it is made clear which suits are to be brought and which applications are to be made by all the landlords together or by an agent authorized to act on behalf of all of them when they are co-sharer landlords and in which cases any of the co-sharer landlords may obtain the relief sought for if he makes the other co-sharer landlords parties to the suit or proceeding

Clause 122.—The repeal of section 188A in this clause is consequential to the repeal of section 158B in clause 101.

Clause 124.—Sections 191 and 192 have been amalgamated It has been made clear that in fixing fair and equitable rents of under-tenants, the ordinary rules of enhancement and reduction of rent would be applicable even though the proceedings may not be under Part II of Chapter X It has also been made clear that the 10 per centum allowance to a tenure-holder may be divided between him and the under-tenures created by him

Clause 125 —This is in keeping with the protections given in section 178

Clause 126 —The Patni Taluk Regulation deals with khudkast or resident raiyats, and not with occupancy raiyats All occupancy raiyats are not therefore protected in the event of the patni taluk being sold up for arrears of rent It is proposed to remedy this by an amendment of section 195.

Clause 127 —The present section 196 is unnecessary and has been repealed

Clause 128.—The clause makes formal drafting amendments in regard to certain references in the Act.

Clause 130 —This clause substitutes references to the present Code of Civil Procedure for the references to the previous Code contained in the present Act

Clause 131 —This clause makes certain formal re-arrangements in sections 3 and 148

Clause 132 —The form of rent-receipt has been found defective Moreover as a record-of-rights has been completed in the greater part of the province, it is necessary to provide for references to it. Instead of prescribing a form in the Schedule of the Act, the particulars which such form should contain have been indicated in the new Schedule II

Clause 133 —This amendment in Article 1 (a) in Part I of Schedule III is consequential on the proposed amendments of section 44 in clause 30

Clause 134 —This new article in Part I of Schedule III is necessary in view of the new sub-clause (cc) in section 44 (clause 30)

Clause 135 —An error in drafting in Article 2 in Part I of Schedule III, namely, the omission of the word "tenure" has been corrected

Clause 136.—Sub-clause (1) introduces a necessary change in the date of the Indian Limitation Act.

By sub-clause (2) it is proposed to enact that the time spent on the execution of a decree for rent on a sale which is subsequently set aside on application shall be excluded from the calculation of the period of limitation for the execution of such a decree

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF THE DISTRICT BOARDS IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1926-27.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Local Self-Government Department.

CALCUTTA, THE 10TH JULY 1928

RESOLUTION—No 2175 L S-G

Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Sir P. C. Mitter, Kt., C.I.E.

READ—

The reports of the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1926 27

District Boards.—The total number of members increased from 676 to 683 and the percentage of elected members was 61 2 Two District Boards out of a total number of 26 had nominated Chairmen, one of whom was an official The Chairman elected by the reconstituted District Board of Midnapore did not meet with the approval of Government As Government had no power to call on the Board to elect another Chairman, the order extending to the Midnapore District Board the privilege of electing its own Chairman was temporarily rescinded and a non-official Chairman was appointed The number of meetings held during the year was 421 of which 9 proved abortive for want of a quorum The Hooghly District Board again failed to meet once a month Party faction seriously hampered the proper working of the Midnapore District Board The administration of the 24-Parganas District Board continued to be carried on under the same disadvantage

2 Local Boards.—There was no change in the number of Local Boards Out of a total number of 82 Local Boards with 1,335 members, four were presided over by nominated non-official Chairmen, another four by elected official Chairmen and the rest by elected non-official Chairmen They held 852 meetings of which 27 proved abortive for want of a quorum The question of the future of Local Boards is still under consideration

3 Village Self-Government.—Altogether 2,260 Union Boards worked during the year against 2,217 in the previous year. In Rangpur 318 Union Boards were formed, but they did not commence work till after the close of the year. In some places Union Boards were sanctioned by Government but could not be formed before the end of the year, while in many others, proposals for the establishment of new Boards were either submitted to Government or were in the course of preparation The Khulna District Board is reported to have agreed to the proposal of the District Magistrate to extend the Union Board system and to have adopted a formal resolution to introduce it all over the district

In the 24-Parganas District opposition to the extension of Village Self-Government has not ceased altogether, and it is reported by the Chairman of the Noakhali District Board that the preponderance of popular opinion is against the system being introduced in the Sadar subdivision of the district The protests in the former district appear to be somewhat artificial and not to emanate from the villagers themselves, while in Noakhali the Chairman hopes that public opinion will be in favour of the system when better results have been obtained from the Union Boards already in existence in the Feni subdivision, the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division agreeing with the District Magistrate thinks that the opposition is dying down

The Union Boards which worked during the year realised under clauses (a) and (b) of section 37 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act and as rents of chaukidari chakran lands a total sum of Rs 32 4 lakhs of which Rs 27 lakhs was spent on establishment (which of course means principally the village police, payment of whose salaries by the Union Boards is a statutory obligation) and collection charges leaving a balance of Rs 5 lakhs only, as in the previous year, for communications, medical aid, education, water-supply and sanitation Boards in general are thus not showing any increased willingness to impose taxation under section 37 (b) for works of local improvement

The names of many Union Boards in the Burdwan Division stand out for good work Specific mention has been made of the Panchra Union Board in the district of Burdwan, which, in view of the scarcity of drinking water, sank 5 tube-wells and set apart several tanks for drinking purposes with the consent of the owners It also maintained drains 4 miles in length and extended a mile more the long drain cut in the previous years which not only supplied the villagers with good drinking water, but has helped them to improve their agriculture In Hooghly the Katke-Bonchee Union Board appears to be the most advanced Union Board in the district as regards "conservancy," having introduced a regular conservancy system within its area In Howrah, the Amadah Union Board reclaimed two drainage khals at a total cost of Rs 3,688, the Sasati Union Board re-excavated a khal at a cost of Rs 2,655 and the Uluberia Union Board took up the construction of a sluice at Hatmaran at an estimated cost of Rs 3,237 In the Bogra district also the Union Boards at Sonatala, Hilli, Jaipurhat and Santahar did excellent work during the year On the other hand, the Jargram Union Board in the district of Burdwan failed even to make payment in time of the salary, etc , of the dafadars and chaukidars and an officer had to be appointed by the District Magistrate under section 54 of the Act Most of the Union Benches and Courts worked fairly satisfactorily and commanded the confidence of the local public

Except in a few districts, the attitude of District and Local Boards towards Union Boards were sympathetic The contributions received by Union Boards from District Boards rose from Rs 3 5 lakhs to Rs 4 lakhs, the most substantial grants reported being those given by the District Boards of the 24-Parganas, Nadia, Khulna and Bogra District Boards in districts in which a few Union Boards only have so far been established should be careful not to make contributions on a scale which will be beyond their means when Union Boards are working throughout the district

In spite of party faction in some places, the provisions of the Act are being carried out by the Union Boards in a spirit which ensures its ultimate success Many of them displayed commendable zeal in improving drainage and water-supply as well as in primary education In many Unions the elections were keenly contested which goes to show that there is a growth of interest in Union Board affairs It is unfortunate that reluctance on the part of many of the Boards to levy taxation at a rate adequate to their needs stands in the way of more rapid progress It is doubtful indeed if any widespread improvement in rural health conditions can be brought about through the agency of Union Boards There are too many which lag behind and fail to keep step with those which are more enterprising and enlightened But much is being done and much more could be done to provide the village people with the elementary amenities for civilized life such as roads, drinking water, primary schools and inexpensive justice

4 Finance of District Boards.—The receipts amounted to Rs 138 75 lakhs against Rs 135 3 lakhs in the preceding year, the increase being mainly due to larger receipts under the heads "Medical" and "Debt" The receipts under "Education," "Civil Works" and "Scientific" and other minor departments declined The expenditure rose from Rs 137 07 lakhs to Rs 141 21 lakhs The increase was chiefly due to larger expenditure on "Education," "Medical," "Civil Works," "General Administration" and "Scientific" and other minor departments The closing balance amounted to Rs 34 68 lakhs (of which Rs 17 85 lakhs were in cash) against Rs 37 15 lakhs in the previous year

5 Taxation.—The average incidence of cess throughout the Presidency was 2 annas 11 pies a year per head of population, varying in different districts from 1 anna 7 pies to 9 annas

6 Education.—The expenditure rose by Rs 2 37 lakhs to Rs 32 84 lakhs of which Government contributed Rs 18 25 lakhs, while other contributions, school fees and miscellaneous receipts amounted to Rs 11,000, Rs 42,000 and Rs 26,000 respectively District Boards from their own funds contributed Rs 13 8 lakhs against Rs 11·26 lakhs in the previous year

The number of upper and lower primary schools maintained and aided by District Boards rose from 41,998 to 43,701—32,574 being boys' schools and 11,127 girls' schools The number of pupils attending these schools was boys 1,164,738, girls 280,668

Union Boards continued to maintain free primary schools on the lines suggested by Mr Biss The primary schools in Burdwan district (except in Asansol subdivision) were under the management and control of Union Boards concerned In Faridpur there were 26 free primary schools under the management of 4 Union Boards New free primary schools were started in Bankura, Murshidabad and the 24-Parganas districts In pursuance of a policy of imparting free education all over the district the 24-Parganas District Board sanctioned a scheme for the establishment of one free primary school in every thana

The number of night schools established in Birbhum and Hooghly for the education of labouring class increased from 136 to 149 with about 3,000 pupils on their rolls The District Board of Darjeeling aided 109 such schools

Technical and Industrial education continued to receive attention One peripatetic weaving school in Bakarganj, two weaving schools in Dinajpur and one technical school in Pabna were provincialised A weaving school was started at Khulna It teaches plain and fancy weaving of cotton cloth and spinning of jute coir and silk The scheme for the establishment of a technical school at Krishnagar matured during the year The Howrah District Board encouraged hand-spinning in middle schools

7 Medical relief and Public Health.—The expenditure under these heads aggregated Rs 21 69 lakhs against Rs 20 24 lakhs of the previous year Twenty-three new dispensaries were opened during the year and the total number of dispensaries maintained and aided were 508 and 346 respectively Dispensaries were also maintained by some Union Boards Medical relief was as usual provided primarily through these institutions and also through a small number of Homeopathic, Ayurvedic and Hakimi dispensaries maintained or subsidised by District Boards. During epidemics of fever, cholera and small-pox additional centres were opened under trained doctors and itinerant doctors were also engaged for the distribution of medicine and the treatment of cases

Many co-operative societies and health associations did useful work and undertook the treatment of, and initiated preventive measures against, kala-azar and malaria To help malaria-stricken villagers inhabiting places remote from dispensaries cinchona febrifuge, supplied by Government, was distributed free through Presidents and anti-malarial societies The 24-Parganas, Howrah, Rajshahi, Mymensingh and several other District Boards started vigorous campaigns against kala-azar A scheme was sanctioned for kala-azar treatment in Burdwan at an estimated cost of Rs 4,500 of which Government contributed Rs 3,000

Cholera broke out in epidemic form in several districts and the District Boards concerned took prompt measures to cope with these outbreaks Inoculation with anti cholera vaccine and disinfection of wells checked in many places the spread of the disease within a very short time The utility of inoculation was greatly appreciated by the rural people Measures were taken in several districts to push on intensive vaccination Free vaccination on the gang system was carried on in Rajshahi from 1,548 depots There were about 42,000 primary vaccinations and 52,100 revaccinations in that district during the year It is reported that owing to the want of female vaccinators, comprehensive revaccination of pardanashin females could not be undertaken

Attention was paid to maternity and child welfare work Some District Boards opened dai training centres and held baby-shows at which prizes were distributed The 24-Parganas District Board appointed 3 midwives whose duty it was to visit selected villages in turn and give lessons in the elementary principles of midwifery.

The District Board of Bankura has made a small beginning in tackling the problem of leprosy and should follow it up on the lines of the work which includes survey and treatment now being carried on in one centre in the district under Dr Muir's scheme

The extension of medical relief like other activities of the District Board is hampered by lack of money Every new unendowed charitable dispensary that is opened involves a recurring charge on the district fund and may necessitate curtailing expenditure under some other head It is important therefore that all alternative means of spreading medical relief should be adopted

Union Boards should be encouraged to open small-scale dispensaries from their own resources, the formation of village health societies on a co-operative basis which will supply medicine free to their members and on payment to outsiders should be promoted, and the system of subsidising doctors who will treat the poor free of charge should be adopted wherever possible

A point that the Minister would like to emphasise is that medical relief should be extended by all means possible The ideal would be to have a number of charitable dispensaries sufficient for the needs of the rural public, but if funds for such a programme are not forthcoming it is better to have institutions that are partly self-supporting through the sale of medicine than to have none at all

8 Veterinary.—The charges under this head increased from Rs 1 65 lakhs to Rs 2 09 lakhs, the increase being shared notably by the District Boards of Midnapore, Nadia, Faridpur, Chittagong, Tippera and Rangpur The expenditure decreased in the 24-Parganas and Noakhali Cattle disease broke out in the districts of Burdwan, Birbhum, Faridpur, Bakarganj, Dinajpur and Pabna Two thousand eight hundred and two animals are reported to have died from contagious disease in Bakarganj alone Inoculation against rinderpest was performed free of charge by Veterinary Assistant Surgeons in several districts The Veterinary Assistant Surgeon of the District Board of Nadia did useful work by way of taking prompt steps in the prevention of cattle diseases and by teaching people how to treat and prevent such diseases

New veterinary dispensaries were opened at Tangail, Saidpur (Rangpur) and Darjeeling A cattle show was held at the Malda Social Service Exhibition A veterinary stall was opened for carrying on propaganda work with the help of posters, photographs of well-bread animals, veterinary instructions and country drugs and of demonstrations Mr L B. Burrows, District Magistrate of Faridpur, says · "Cattle epidemics were much more efficiently handled in the year under report but constant vigilance will always be necessary to ensure prompt reporting and adequate preventive and curative measures He considers that if sufficient supply of free serum is forthcoming, the prospects of cattle protection are promising No real improvement of the condition of cattle however can be expected unless the animals are properly fed

9 Civil Works.—The total expenditure under this head rose from Rs 63 12 lakhs to Rs 64 81 lakhs The expenditure on "Buildings," "Communication" and "Establishment" increased by Rs 98,000, Rs 60,000 and Rs 26,000 respectively and that on "Water-supply" fell by Rs 46,000 The outlay on original works under "Communication" showed an increase of Rs 1 07 lakhs but the cost of repairs decreased by Rs 47,000, while in the case of "Water-supply" capital expenditure fell and maintenance charges increased by Rs 78,000 and Rs 32,000 respectively

The mileage of metalled and unmetalled roads was 2,513 and 15,447 against 2,495 and 15,305 of the previous year

The increasing use of motor vehicles, especially omnibuses, in the mufassal made it very difficult for District Boards to maintain their roads in proper condition The question of road development in India is now being considered by a Committee appointed by the Government of India In view of the possibility of the levy of some form of taxation on motor vehicles the proceeds of which will be available to finance road development, the Government of Bengal have asked local bodies to formulate schemes in advance for the reconstruction of roads and bridges so as to make them fit to carry motor traffic

The motor omnibus has certainly improved travel facilities in rural areas and fulfils a useful role in the countryside The Minister is however fully alive to the embarrassment caused to District Boards by the damage done to their roads by these vehicles

Whatever may be the outcome of the deliberation of the above-mentioned Committee he thinks that a small surcharge—say 5 per cent —on the estimated income from the fares paid by 'bus passengers would not be a burdensome impost while if the revenue derived from this source were earmarked for the improvement of roads 'bus-owners would share in the benefits.

District Boards spend considerable amounts on original works under the head of "Communication" every year

The Minister considers that it would be a wise policy to finance the construction of bridge and culverts and other schemes of road improvement which are of a permanent nature from loan funds instead of from current income

Increased road mileage involves higher charges for upkeep so that District Boards can hypothecate for the service of loans only a portion of the amount which they spend annually on the improvement of communications, keeping ample sums in hand for repairs and maintenance

There seems however to be room for a bolder policy in this respect

The income (Rs 13,794) of District Boards from their roadside trees, etc, remained almost the same as in the previous year The expenditure on arboriculture fell from Rs 26,145 to Rs 25,736 The number (9,168) of trees planted during the year showed an increase of about 1,100 over that of the previous year Though nearly one-half of the number died, the number of deaths was less than in the preceding year The heaviest losses occurred in Burdwan which planted the largest number of trees, and in Bankura, Nadia and Noakhali

The percentage of total lapses to the total budget allotment increased specially in the 24-Parganas (14 8), Jessore (15) and Darjeeling (16 4) The percentage though still high decreased in Burdwan (13 7), Faridpur (11 9) and Pabna (15 7) In Burdwan the large unspent balance of the preceding year which was provided in the supplementary budget estimate could not be economically spent during the vear and the old complicated claims of contractors could not be settled The lapse in Pabna was due to the non-completion of certain works before the end of the year for want of bricks and to the prevalence of cholera and small-pox owing to which contractors could not procure coolies No reason was given for the heavy lapses in Darjeeling

No part of the allotments lapsed in Hooghly, Murshidabad and Malda, the last named District Boar gely overspent its allotment

10 Water-supply.—The enditure on water-supply declined Rs 9 1 lakhs to Rs 8 62 lakhs ogether eleven district boards spen larger amounts than in the prev year Burdwan, Bankura, 24-1 ranas, Mymensingh, Pabna and Mald which spent larger sums than their au entation grants deserve special mentio

In Nadia, the District Board ant with the Government contributio was placed in the hands of the Subdivis al Officers who, in open conference with e members of Local Boards, Circle Offi s and Presidents of Union Boar selected sites and got the work do through Union Boards with the help one-third contribution from the loca people, the District Board supervising the construction of wells through its engineering staff In the 24-Parganas 191 tube-wells, 3 masonry wells and 3 tanks were completed during the year, while the excavation of 12 tanks and sinking of 6 masonry wells and 41 tube-wells remained unfinished In addition a number of tube-wells were sunk by Local and Union Boards The total number of tube-wells now amounts to 691 and to look after them the District Board maintains a staff consisting of one mechanic and six mistries A sum of Rs 15,000 was spent by the Board to supplement the Government grant of the same amount placed at the District Magistrate's disposal for sinking tube-wells in rural areas through the agency of Local Boards, Union Boards and Union Committees In Khulna the allotment for water-supply was divided between Local Boards who prepared programmes with the help of the Subdivisional Officers Loans were also advanced to private individuals for the excavation and re-excavation of tanks The Hooghly District Board spent Rs 16,600 in sinking tube-wells, masonry wells and repairs of tanks and wells This Board got a loan of Rs 1 lakh from Government for the improvement of rural water-supply It is hoped that when the scheme of water-supply for rural areas is fully carried out one-fourth of the district will be saved from the scarcity of drinking water In Dacca the construction of 2 tanks and 40 wells was completed and the construction of 4 tanks and 51 wells was undertaken The Mymensingh District Board sank 64 masonry wells, 143 tube-wells and 14 ferro-concrete wells and 1 tiled well and excavated 2 tanks during the year The Board employed one permanent and temporary mistry for the repair of tube-wells The Bakarganj District Board spent Rs 24,170 on excavation of new tanks and Rs 6,080 on maintaining existing ones It excavated 6 tanks and undertook the excavation of 15 tanks during the year Altogether there are 315 reserved tanks under the control of the Board excluding 68 other tanks excavated with contribution from the Board

In many areas within recent years tube-wells have become a popular source of water-supply Where tube-wells are possible, they have many advantages There is little risk of contamination and if the tube is a small one the cost is much cheaper than that of digging a tank or constructing a pucca well

Reference was made in the previous year's Resolution to certain suggestions made by the Magistrate of Mymensingh regarding the use of such wells These suggestions were examined in the Public Health Department and a pamphlet (in English and Bengali) explaining the mechanism of a tube-well and how to effect repairs at a cheap cost-- which was prepared by the Department-- was circulated to all District Boards and Municipalities in Bengal

The Minister considers that a well thought-out policy of providing new sources of water supply and of improving the existing sources is essential Patent facts show that if every village in Bengal has to be supplied with a wholesome source of water-supply in the near future, it can only be done with a better organisation and with more self-help in local village units While it is true that there are many villages where the population is comparatively poor, it is equally true that in other villages the people are not so poor as not to be able to bear a considerable portion of the expenditure necessary for providing their villages with a wholesome source of water-supply The rural population of Bengal lives in over 84,000 villages of varying size and material conditions Of the 43 millions odd who live within the jurisdiction of district boards in the 84,000 villages, some 8 millions live in 2,885 villages in each of which there is a population of 2,000 to 5,000 More than 9 millions are to be found in 7,137 villages each with a population of 1,000 to 2,000 and there are more than 59,000 villages with a total population of 12 millions odd in each of which the number of inhabitants is under 500 There are 14,000 odd villages with a total population of 10 millions odd in each of which the population is between 500 to 1,000 Speaking generally, it ought not to be difficult for villages with a population of 2,000 to 5,000 to bear the bulk of the expenditure on their local water-supply Speaking generally again, it ought not to be difficult for the 7,000 odd villages with a population of 1,000 to 2,000 to bear a fairly substantial portion of the cost of their local water-supply It is in the very sparsely populated villages, the number of which is large though the aggregate population living in them is a comparatively small proportion of the whole that real poverty is likely to exist District Boards and Union Boards will be well advised if they pay greater attention to local contributions according to local ability The wealthier village has sometimes a larger influence, and the members of the District Boards who are custodians of the public purse and whose duty it is to pay more attention to the poorer section of the population should guard against the possibility of the wealthier villages getting their source of water-supply without contributing an adequate portion of the expenditure If this warning be kept in mind, the limited resources of the District Boards and Government will go a much longer way than they would under an indiscriminate policy of providing a source of water-supply if a certain proportion be paid by a particular locality irrespective of the capacity or wants of that locality as compared with those of others in the district In the rural areas, there are many potential sources of wholesome water-supply owned by co-sharer owners or by others who are not willing to help in the solution of the problem of wholesome water-supply even though their material interests are not likely to suffer if they do so The Minister will be very pleased to receive definite suggestions in the matter from the District Boards If need be, he will be prepared, provided he gets public support, to introduce legislation to compel co-sharer owners and others to grant their neighbours access to sources of wholesome water-supply It must, however, be understood that it will not be right to do this by action which would amount to deprivation of private rights In many cases, the owner of the tank derives income from the exercise of the fishery right and in a limited number of cases, an additional income by supplying water for irrigation purposes Provided these rights are fairly safeguarded, it should be feasible in return for a comparatively small compensation to compel owners of sources of water-supply to allow their neighbours to take their drinking water from such sources and to get their tanks re-excavated for that purpose If such powers are taken, then the total cost of providing a wholesome source of water-supply for each village will be considerably diminished without detriment to proprietary rights It is desirable that the District Boards should prepare as early as possible a detailed programme aimed at providing every village with a wholesome source of water-supply with an approximate estimate of the cost of such supply The Ministry of Local Self-Government will at an early date address a circular to the different District Boards calling for certain definite information about a complete programme of rural water-supply in the districts, but in the meantime the Minister desires to draw the attention of the District Boards to the necessity of having such a programme and estimate for each district, so that the whole problem can be investigated with more definite data than it has been possible hitherto to do

11 Closing Balance.—The year closed with an actual balance of Rs 17 8 lakhs against 21 7 lakhs of the previous year There were heavy balances in the District Board of Burdwan (Rs 2,49,637), Hooghly (Rs 1,07,380) and the 24-Parganas (Rs 3,01,550), while the District Boards of Jessore (Rs 9,313) and Noakhali (Rs 4,207) closed the year with unduly low balances The heavy balance in Burdwan was largely due to the dislocation of work caused by the dismissal of the late District Engineer and that in Hooghly was due to the receipt of a loan of Rs 1 lakh from Government in the last part of the year which could not be expended during the year Of the heavy balance at the credit of the 24-Parganas District Board, Rs 2,71,000 represented unspent balances under "Education," "Medical," "Civil Works" and other heads and receipts amounting to Rs 86,000 over budget provision The Nadia District Board closed the year with a debit balance This was mainly due to a large legacy of debt left by the old Board

12 General remarks.—The administration of District Boards was on the whole carried on satisfactorily under the guidance of non-official Chairmen most of whom evinced a real interest in the affairs of the Boards though, as a rule, they are unable to do as much, during as is desirable to control the outdoor work of their officers

In the case of some District Boards the Chairmen are not regular residents in the districts and thus are not in a position properly to attend to the work of the District Boards, namely, conduct meetings and to supervise the work of the office and of the Board's subordinates

The Commissioner of the Presidency Division observes —

"Harmony generally prevailed among the members throughout the year except in the case of 24-Parganas where partisan spirit played a considerable part in the working of the Board and was accentuated during the elections The election disputes were a common feature in the reconstitution of the Boards and were an indication of the growing interest which the public are taking in the affairs of the local bodies But the inordinate delay in disposing of them considerably hampered work In the matter of rural water-supply the District Boards freely co-operated with the Government officials and generally supplemented allotments made from Government grant for improvement of water-supply in rural areas"

The increase of the number of anti malarial and health societies indicates that the District Board propaganda has to a certain extent succeeded in rousing the people Some of these societies formed on co-operative lines with Government grants are reported to be doing excellent work

It is impossible to conclude a review of the working of District Boards without a reference to the perennial problem of lack of funds

With a total income of Rs 138 74 lakhs, 32 47 lakhs of which consists of Government grants, District Boards are expected to provide the primary amenities of civilised life such as communications, medical and veterinary treatment, education, and [?]ation to a population of about 43 millions spread over an area of more than 70,000 square miles Government in[?]te of the will to help are in no position to make much larger contributions from their own limited and unexpanding resources

Apart from such increases of income as may be obtained from periodical cess-revaluation the Minister considers that there are three methods by which additional funds for the uplift of the rural areas may be obtained, namely, by realising voluntary contributions, by a greater readiness on the part of Union Boards and Union Committees to use their powers of imposing a local rate, and by the adoption by District Boards of such powers of levying new taxes as are given to them by the Scheduled Taxes Rules

The true foundation of village improvement could be laid if workers in the cause of rural uplift devoted themselves to one area after another, raised a sufficient sum from voluntary donations, and helped the villagers to spend it for the common good

The Minister desires to bring this aspect of the problem to the notice of that section of the public which is really interested in improving the conditions of village life An expenditure of even two annas per head of population raised in this way would, when supplemented by grants from Government and the District Boards, bring about a vast amelioration in rural conditions Union Boards already raised over Rs 5 lakhs by voluntary taxation under section 37 (b) of the Village Self-Government Act This source of income is elastic and there is much room for expansion without causing undue hardship to the rate-payers In this direction, too, the influence of those who have the welfare of the rural population at heart might be usefully employed

There remains the possibility of using the powers of levying additional taxation which may be conferred on District Boards by the Legislative Council Imposts which are permissible include tolls, taxes on vehicles and boats, a tax on trades, professions, and callings, and a tax on private markets

The Minister does not feel it incumbent on him to call upon District Boards to send up proposals for increased taxing powers which he may lay before the Legislative Council He holds the view that it is for the Boards themselves, as local bodies primarily responsible for the improvement of rural conditions, to formulate their proposals and to submit them for his consideration

In conclusion he would again point out to District Boards the desirability of adopting a well-considered loan policy for the execution of works of a permanent nature Such a policy not only ensures that future generations which share the benefit will also contribute to the cost but also enables the Boards to undertake works the cost of which they are unable to provide out of current revenue

The Minister desires to express his appreciation of the good work done by the following gentlemen —

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF BENGAL, 1928.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1925-26, the area under jute in Bengal, to which this Forecast relates, represents some 84·7 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

The Preliminary Forecast deals only with estimates of area sown and the condition of the crop at the time of publication of the Forecast The estimates of area are based on information received through the Collectors from the Revenue staff, also from Panchayets and Agricultural Officers

Area sown in 1928.—In Bengal, district returns for the present season show a total area of 2,711,200 acres, a decrease of about 250,900, or about 8 per cent as compared with the final figures for 1927

Character of the season.—So far the season has been favourable on the whole, though a drought in April delayed sowings in some cases, and hindered growth of the germinated crop in others On this account the crop is inclined to be late, and, therefore, rather more than usually dependent on weather conditions from now onward There has been excessive rain in Noakhali, also in some tracts in Mymensingh

Present state of the crop.—There has been a certain amount of damage by insects, but, with the exceptions mentioned above, the present condition of the crop may be regarded as satisfactory

Stocks.—Stocks of fibre from last year's crop are reported to be comparatively small

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR AND ORISSA.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF BIHAR AND ORISSA, 1928.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1925-26, the area under jute to which Bihar and Orissa Forecast relates, represents about 9·0 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

The present forecast deals only with the estimated area sown It gives also a general survey of prospects, but makes no reference to the probable outturn either in percentage figures or in bales

2 Acreage.—I estimate the area sown during the current and four preceding years in round numbers as follows -

Year	Acreage
1924	212,200
1925	263,200
1926	297,000
1928	247,000

3 Weather conditions.—In March light showers fell in the jute districts, except Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Purnea, where there was no rain The fall was below the normal everywhere In April light to moderate rain fell in all the jute districts, the fall was above the normal everywhere, except Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Purnea, and the Sonthal Parganas where it was below the normal, and in May the rainfall was below the normal everywhere, except Purnea and Balasore, where it was above the normal In June rain fell in all the jute districts—the fall was light to moderate everywhere, except the Sonthal Parganas, where it was heavy The weather conditions are reported to be favourable, and condition of the crop is generally good Sowings are still going on in Purnea and the Sonthal Parganas

4 District returns.—The total area under jute is estimated by District Officers in round figures at 197,400 acres Last year's revised area was 241,000 acres and, in my opinion, this year's figure is likely to be not less than 247,000 acres

5 Condition and prospects.—The condition of the crop is good

6 General.—The quantity of jute which remains in the jute districts from the crops of 1927 is reported to be small

The statement below compares the estimated area under jute in this province this year with the preliminary and final figures of last year .—

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ASSAM.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF ASSAM, 1928.

[NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1925-26, the area under jute in Assam represents 5·1 per cent. of the total area under the crop in British India.]

Character of the season.—The season commenced with dry weather throughout the province when in March it became favourable in the Surma Valley only In April rainfall was about the average in the Assam Valley while there was severe drought in the Surma Valley The weather in May was very wet especially in the Surma Valley where there was flood which caused slight damage to the crop in some places, but it improved in the month of June in all districts On the whole the season has been practically favourable and the prospects of the crop are satisfactory and better than in previous year

2 Area sown.—As estimated by the Deputy Commissioners, the total area under jute is 207,600 acres or 36,600 acres more than the final figure of last year The increase occurred in all districts in the Assam Valley, except Sibsagar, and is due to extension of cultivation

3 Stock.—As reported by the Deputy Commissioners, little jute remains from the crop of last year in the districts of Sylhet, Goalpara, Kamrup, Darrang and Nowgong

CALCUTTA, THE 13th JULY 1928

RESOLUTION—No 1286 P J

READ -

The report on the administration of the Jail Department in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1927

READ ALSO—

The reports for the years 1925 and 1926 and the resolutions of Government thereon

1 There was a considerable increase in the total number of prisoners detained in the jails of Bengal during the year under report The average daily population has also risen from 12,771 in 1926 to 13,536 in 1927 This continues the tendency to increase noticeable in the figures of the previous year after a period of falling numbers dating from 1920 when the average daily population was 15,357

2 The health of prisoners as indicated by the numbers of average sick cases and deaths though slightly less satisfactory than in 1926 compares favourably with that in other years Daily average sick cases numbered 32 4 per mille against 31 4 in 1926 and deaths 14 4 per mille against 13 7

3 The total cost of guarding and maintaining prisoners rose from Rs 23,82,569 in 1926 to Rs 25,09,958 during the year under report The increase was chiefly under the heads " Establishment ", " Dieting ", and " Clothing and bedding " in which the expenditure rose by Rs 32,505, Rs 76,697 and Rs 18,290 The increase in the two latter items is accounted for by the increase in the number of prisoners

4 A slight improvement is noted in the average period of detention of under-trial prisoners in jails The average number of days for Sessions cases being 42 17 against 43 12 in 1926 and in Magistrates cases 19 86 against 21 20 In Dacca, Rajshahi, Krishnagar and in the Presidency Jail, however the average period is still above 9 weeks in Sessions cases The attention of the Judicial Department will be drawn to these delays

5 There have recently been changes in the organisation of the manufacturing departments of the jails, which render comparison with previous years somewhat misleading There was a heavy fall in the net cash earnings from Rs 5,84,898 in 1926 to Rs 1,72,744 in the year under report This is reported to be due to several causes the receipts in 1926 were swollen by the disposal of the jute mills in the Presidency Jail, the manufacture of quinine tablets in the Presidency Jail has been discontinued, and the jail no longer receives credit for a share in the profits of manufacture, the profits on the sale of forms printed at the Alipore Jail Press are no longer credited to the jails manufacturing department The stock of manufactured articles has also increased and the volume of trading is smaller The Department is finding increasing difficulty in the face of outside competition in securing orders from other departments of Government It is evident that this branch of jail administration continues to require careful attention

6 The Governor in Council shares with the Inspector-General and other officers of the Jail Department the disappointment they feel in the slow progress made in introducing reforms of which the need is admitted These reforms were indicated in the report of the Indian Jails Committee in 1919-20 They were re-stated in the report of the Bengal Jails Enquiry Committee in November 1927 Some progress has been made but the Jails Department has suffered equally with, if not more than, other departments in Bengal from the financial starvation imposed upon the province by the Meston award It has therefore only been possible to introduce reforms of which the cost was not great One of the most important of the necessary reforms is the separation of the different classes of prisoners, of long-term and short-term prisoners, of habitual criminals and non-habituals, of youthful prisoners and adults The complete separation of these classes involves heavy expenditure that cannot now be met, but it is satisfactory to record that a further step has been taken by the passing of the Borstal Schools Act and the establishment of a Borstal School at Bankura This institution now receives adolescents from the age of 16 to 21 sentenced by courts to detention in a Borstal School under the Act and also young prisoners who have been sentenced to ordinary terms of imprisonment but who are selected by the Inspector-General as suitable inmates for the school

With the object of assisting adolescent offenders on release an "After-care Association" has been formed composed largely of non-officials and assisted by a grant from Government The Governor in Council desires to record his appreciation of the services of the members of the public mentioned in paragraph 2 of the report, who have worked for the organisation of the association It is hoped that their example will be followed by others in the mufassal to which it is intended ultimately to extend the activities of the association

The Reformatory and Industrial School at Alipore which receives juvenile offenders under the age of 16 made good progress during the year under report Its control has since April 1928 been transferred to the Education Department Juvenile offenders outside Calcutta have still to be sent either to the Reformatory School at Hazaribagh or to jails in this province owing to the absence of any special institution for their reception The establishment of such an institution is one of the more urgent reforms necessary

Another reformative measure which promises to be of value was the introduction of a system of compulsory primary education for young prisoners with sentences of over six months in the Alipore Central Jail The school is reported to have brought about a marked improvement in the discipline, cleanliness and general behaviour of those who attended it The results have been most encouraging and His Excellency in Council hopes that the experiment will be continued and extended to other jails

7 The percentage of prisoners with sentences not exceeding one month was 30 07 per cent in the year under report against 32 33 per cent in 1926 The Inspector-General however calls attention to the fact that the number of short-term prisoners is still very high, particularly in the Presidency Jail where no less than 1,569 had sentences of seven days or less His Excellency in Council agrees with the Inspector-General that little good is done by these short sentences They are ordinarily due to the non-payment of fines, and the attention of Magistrates will again be drawn to the importance of allowing sufficient time for the payment of fines before sending the defaulter to prison

8 Three thousand, five hundred and forty-two persons were sentenced to simple imprisonment though the proportion to the total number of sentences is slightly smaller than last year it represents an undesirable increase in actual numbers His Excellency in Council agrees with the Inspector-General that a form of detention in which prisoners can sit all day in idleness is likely to do more harm than good

9. There was a marked increase in the number of punishments of prisoners Offences in connection with work and prohibited articles were responsible for a large part of the increase, and the Inspector-General attributes it to the enforcement of stricter discipline This is borne out by the fact that there has been a similar increase in the number of punishments of the warder staff

The Governor in Council recognises that the closer attention by the superior jail staff and the introduction of reforms throws additional work and responsibility upon the staff and acknowledges the good work done by the Inspector-General and the officers specially mentioned in Lieutenant-Colonel Hamilton's interesting report

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Prisons, Bengal, for information and guidance

ORDERED that a copy of this resolution and a copy of the report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department

ORDERED ALSO that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette

NOTIFICATION

No 5-I — The 17th July 1928 — In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864) and in supersession of all previous notifications on the subject, the Governor in Council is pleased to make and fix the following revised rules and schedule of rates of tolls for the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil Channel and the Lower Kumar River as defined in Notification No 128, dated the 26th June 1900 and Notification No 162, dated the 22nd July 1902, paragraphs 17 and 18

W H NELSON,

Offg Secretary to the Government of Bengal

RULES.

1 Every vessel passing through the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil Channel shall stop at the prescribed toll stations notified in the Schedule attached for the purpose of assessment, or check, of toll charges

2 For the purposes of these rules, vessels other than rafts, timbers, bamboos or other floating material shall be divided into two classes as below —

Class I—To include all vessels of the usual native types of build

Class II—To include all steamers, flats and barges, and such other square built boats as should, in the opinion of the Collector of Tolls, be included

3 The net tonnage of every vessel of Class I, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of these rules, be determined by the following measurements —

(A) The product of one-quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water-line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the interior greatest depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied

(B) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches, the measurement of the breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot

(C) The maundage on which tollage shall be charged shall be a simple multiple of 12½ maunds, rejecting any remainder by which the maundage, calculated as above, may exceed such simple multiple

4 For vessels in Class II the tonnage shall be determined as follows —

The tonnage of steamers shall be the registered tonnage as given in the certificate of the survey of the steamer

Toll shall be levied on the actual weight of cargo on steamers, flats, barges and other vessels included in this class, as declared in the manifests When the registered tonnage of a steamer or the manifest for cargo of a flat is not available, the tonnage will be taken as arrived at under rule 3 For square built boats the total maundage, as determined under rules for Class I, shall be increased by half, and for steamers one-third of the total maundage shall be deducted for engine space

5 Every vessel except as exempted under rule 10 shall be furnished at the toll station of entry with a ticket on which the name of the serang, manjhi or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage of the vessel, the nature and weight of the cargo it contains, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket will remain current, shall be entered

6 This ticket may be demanded and checked by any Navigation Officer while the vessel is within the toll-limits of the Bhil Channel and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose The ticket must be given up at the exit toll station If the ticket is not produced on demand by a Navigation Officer, such officer shall assess the amount of toll payable and the vessel will be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act until such sum is realised

7 Vessels leaving the channel between two toll stations shall obtain a permit for so doing in Form No 1 from the Collector of Tolls of the toll station of entry In such cases the Collector of Tolls will issue a ticket in the usual form and also collect the same before the vessel is permitted to proceed

8 A vessel, which has been detained under these rules or under section 9 of the Act, may not be removed from the channel without the order of the Collector of Tolls until the toll due has been paid During such detention the manji, owner or agent must make arrangements for the safety of the vessel and cargo

9 All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll station before a vessel is permitted to proceed Provided that the Collector of Tolls appointed under section 8 of the Act may, at his discretion, permit vessels belonging to individuals or firms of recognised standing to proceed without prepayment, on an undertaking that the bills for tollage due shall be liquidated monthly on presentation

10 (i) In the case of steamers and flats falling under the latter portion of rule 9 a copy of the traffic manifest must be handed in at the exit toll station, a receipt for which in Form No 2 will be issued by the Collector of Tolls to the person in charge of the vessel, in such cases no ticket in the usual form will be issued If the traffic manifest is not produced at the exit toll station the procedure as laid down in rules 6 and 8 will be adopted

(ii) The traffic manifest or the receipt for the same may be demanded by any Navigation officer while the vessel is within the limits of the Bhil Channels between the Manickdah entrance and Charmaguria

11 The term "Navigation Officer" as used in rules 6 to 10 shall include the Collector of Tolls appointed under section 8 of the Act, and the officer, or the subordinate duly authorised by such officer of the Irrigation Department in charge of the subdivision or section within which the channel is situated

12 Duplicates of lost tickets will be granted by the Collector of Tolls who originally issued the tickets on payment of a fee of one-fourth of the amount of toll payable, subject to a maximum of one rupee and eight annas and a minimum of eight annas The duplicate will be issued only when the Collector of Tolls is satisfied concerning the identity of the boat

13 No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the channel

14 (i) In every case of a sunken vessel, whether due to negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor and his subordinates shall offer every assistance in removing the same

(ii) If, three days after the occurrence of a wreck, it is seen that prompt measures are not being taken by the owner to remove the sunken vessel from the line of navigation, the Supervisor and his subordinates shall make their own arrangements for the removal of the same at the expense of the owner, provided that when the wreck obstructs the fairway they shall take action at once to remove the same

15 When a sunken vessel has been recovered, the Supervisor shall cause notices to be posted at the toll offices, or other prominent places, calling on those concerned to pay the Collector of Tolls all toll or demurrage which may be due, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery of the vessel and cargo. Should the sum due be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the boat and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold under the procedure directed in section 9 of the Act

16 The purchaser of a vessel sold under the provisions of section 9 of the Act, shall have the right to take it out of the channel on the day of purchase, or within such time as may be allowed by the Collector of Tolls, without payment of tolls

RESOLUTION ON THE SEVENTH QUINQUENNIAL REVIEW ON THE PROGRESS OF EDUCATION IN BENGAL FOR THE YEARS 1922-23 TO 1926-27.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

Education.

CALCUTTA, THE 3RD JULY 1928.

RESOLUTION—No. 1918 Edn.

Minister in charge. The Hon'ble Nawab Musharruf Hossain, Khan Bahadur

READ—

The seventh Quinquennial Review on the Progress of Education in Bengal for the years 1922-23 to 1926-27.

General Remarks.—Although in the period under review no far-reaching reform in education was possible owing to unfavourable financial and political conditions, yet there were both development and progress in several branches of the subject, the most noteworthy being the great increase in numbers in all branches of education of the "backward" classes of Hindus and the growing interest taken by all communities in the education of their girls The financial difficulty arising out of the Meston Award led to the appointment of the Bengal Retrenchment Committee, which recommended drastic economies in the Education Budget But, though certain measures of economy were given effect to, no great reduction in educational activities was found either necessary or desirable. During half of this period, there were no Ministers, and Education had then to be administered as a Reserved subject, while the non-co-operation movement, which had almost spent its force, had left behind a spirit of unrest and indiscipline

The Legislative Council, by its budget debates, its criticisms of educational policy and administration, its resolutions, and interpellations, exercised a considerable influence on the educational policy of the province Occasionally by its decision it made the administration of the Department extremely difficult e g, when it refused the salaries of the Inspecting officers (Transferred) during the year 1924-25 (which was, however, restored later as a supplementary grant), but on the whole the members took much interest in matters educational, especially in the affairs of Calcutta University, the question of Primary education, compulsory Physical education of children, problems of Moslem education, etc In 1923, two private Bills were introduced to reconstitute Calcutta University on a popular basis, but were ultimately withdrawn The debate showed a desire for reform on the lines of the recommendations of the Sadler Commission The motion of Mr A C Banerjee in 1926 to make "physical education compulsory for boys between 12 and 18 in all schools affiliated to the University and in all maktabs and madrasahs" and that of Maulvi Rajibuddin Tarafdar recommending to Government that "steps be taken with as little delay as possible for the inauguration of a system of compulsory primary education in Bengal," which were both adopted by the Council, were the two most important educational pronouncements Government have decided to give effect to them as soon as the necessary funds are available

The review has brought into relief one special feature of the educational activities of the province that is peculiar to Bengal, 31 per cent of the total expenditure on education is spent on University work, 45 2 per cent on secondary and 23 8 per cent on primary education, while in the rest of India the proportion is 15 6 39 6 44 8 Obviously in Bengal education is top-heavy, a disproportionately large amount being spent on University and Secondary education at the cost of the education of the masses

2 University Education.—The most important events are—(1) the passing of the Dacca University (Amendment) Act, 1925, which provided for a statutory annual recurring grant of five and a half lakhs, and placed the finances of the University on a stable basis and enabled it to push ahead safely with its academic programme, (2) the sanction of a recurring grant of Rs 2,43,000 with a contingent liability of Rs 37,000 in 1925-26, to Calcutta University, which went a great way to make up the loss in the fee-income due to considerable decline in the number of students in the postgraduate classes, and (3) the deaths of Sir Asutosh Mukherjee and Mr Bhupendra Nath Basu, both Vice-Chancellors of Calcutta University, which removed from the field of Education two great personalities, the University suffering an irreparable loss, especially on account of the sudden death of Sir Asutosh, who had by his great imagination and self-denying labour developed Calcutta University from a purely examining body to a teaching University and infused a great spirit of research in the University, especially on the Arts side

There was much discussion in the earlier years of the quinquennium between Calcutta University and Government to bring about reform on the lines of the recommendations of the Sadler Report, but nothing came out of it in concrete form The Postgraduate department continued to be worked on the old lines and the control over Secondary and Intermediate education still remained in the hand of the University, which however lacks the agencies necessary to exercise any effective control

There was a marked fall in the number of students in the Postgraduate classes of Calcutta University In 1916-17 there were 1,722 students reading for the M A and M Sc. Examinations; in 1921-22 the number was 1,234, while the figure for 1926-27 was only 989. There was, however, a steady growth in the science classes during the same period The Bengali graduate has begun to find that the M.A degree does not help him much in his economic difficulties The lure of a purely academic course in Science has not yet disappeared and the day is not perhaps far distant when it will be recognised that the ordinary University course in Science, like that in Arts, with few industrial ramifications in the country, can only bring disappointment to the vast majority The beaten track of the University brings prizes only to the best few The ordinary professions are over-crowded and there is hardly any opening in Government and commercial offices for the vast crowd of unemployed graduates Bengal seems to have realised the economic waste of the present system of University education, but the remedy has not been discovered nor any serious attempt made to find ways and means to make the educational system of the country conform to the demands of modern conditions There are clear indications that the old complacency and satisfaction with the existing order of things has gone for ever, but what should take place and how the necessary funds are to be made available, are issues which are not yet near solution.

There are, however, certain redeeming features in the activities of the Postgraduate department of Calcutta University and a large amount of research work was done in almost all the branches of the Postgraduate department The results of the examinations indicate a noticeable raising of the standard The Senate is to be congratulated on the proposal for the creation of two Professorships in the name of Sir Asutosh Mukherjee, one for Sanskrit and the other for Islamic culture, which are destined to extend the bounds of knowledge in these subjects

The young University of Dacca continues to make fairly satisfactory progress The number of students rose from 1,030 in 1921-22 to 1,415 in 1926-27, and here again the popularity of Science was unmistakable The number of students in residence in the Halls rose from 336 to 569 and there was marked progress in the corporate and social activities of the University The number of books in the library has been increased and a large number of periodicals have been made available Considerable additions were made to the buildings, especially to the Chemical laboratories, and preliminary work was done in connection with a large underground sewerage scheme for the University area Arrangements were made for the accommodation of 12 women students and funds were allotted for the provision of a Moslem Hall, which is now under construction A one-year course leading to an examination for a diploma in Practical English was instituted and much valuable original research work was done by nearly every department

Sir P J Hartog, who, as first Vice-Chancellor, gave Dacca University its present form and to whom most of the credit for the building up of a first-class residential University in Bengal is due, retired at the end of 1925 The thanks of the Government are due to him for the excellent services rendered by him and the great personal care with which he fostered the growth of the infant University

An Advisory Committee for High Education was constituted in 1924 by His Excellency the Earl of Lytton, Chancellor of both the Universities, to advise Government on points of mutual interest in connection with higher education, to "co-ordinate the work of the two Universities, to see that all unnecessary duplication in the work of the University is avoided and to ensure that all available resources are distributed between the two Universities in some equitable ratio" It held several meetings in 1924 and 1925 and discussed two important questions—the conditions of the Dacca University Provident Fund and the standardising of Honours courses in the two Universities On the former question it was decided that teachers at Dacca University should contribute 8⅓rd per cent to the fund, on condition that the same rate was adopted by those of Calcutta University and that some attempt should be made to start a provident fund for teachers of colleges affiliated to the latter University As regards the Honours course, which is of 2 years at Calcutta and 3 years at Dacca, there were difficulties in the way of standardisation and no agreement could be reached

3 Collegiate Education for Indian boys.—The most marked feature in the field of collegiate education is the multiplication of Arts colleges, especially in the mufassal Seven new Intermediate colleges were started during the period, three under Calcutta University and four affiliated to the Dacca Intermediate Board, three of the latter being for the teaching of Islamic subjects and one for the ordinary arts subjects Two degree colleges—the Islamia College and the Feni College were established, so that the total number of colleges increased from 36 in 1922 to 45 in 1927 Of the 45 colleges, 11 were Government institutions,

21 aided and 13 unaided. Four of these colleges, those at Bagerhat, Midnapore, Pabna and Hetampore, were raised to the first grade rank during the quinquennium, and many colleges extended their affiliation in Honours and could thus offer a wider range of courses to their students.

The number of students rose from 16,942 to 22,420 during the quinquennium. Muhammadans numbered 3,131 and their proportion to the total rose from 12.8 to 13.9 per cent. The demand for science courses increased considerably. "Between 1922 and 1925, about half the colleges in the mufassal obtained affiliation in the I.Sc., or B.Sc., or both, and the number of candidates at the I.Sc. Examination jumped from 1,922 to 4,332 in five years." On financial and other grounds it was not possible to make corresponding provision at the B.Sc. stage, and the result was that many students who had passed the I.Sc. and found it impossible to get admission to the few Medical and Engineering colleges, had no other option than to take up the Arts course at the B.A. stage. The lure of Government service through the competitive examinations has also begun to attract the better class of students from Science to Arts, since it is now widely believed that a course in Arts pays better than one in Science for these examinations.

The results of the University Examinations show a decisive raising of the standard; thus in 1921-22, the percentages of success in I.A., I.Sc., B.A., and B.Sc. Examinations were 65.1, 74.9, 72.3 and 68.8, while in 1926-27 they were 46.7, 46.05, 37.3 and 47.5, respectively. The examinations in Calcutta tended in the past to be too easy. It is hoped that the raising of the standard will lead to a corresponding improvement in the quality of teaching, as well as, in the end, a higher average standard of mental effort among the students. A special feature of the last quinquennium is the lead given to other colleges by the Presidency College, on the recommendation of the Presidency College Committee appointed in 1923, by raising its fees considerably. Other colleges followed suit, but hardly to the degree that is desirable for financial stability. Expenditure had increased considerably in these colleges, owing to the opening and extension of Science courses, the starting of provident funds, and the improvement of pay and prospects of teachers. To add to their difficulties, there was a considerable loss in fee-income, due to the stricter standard of examination and the increase in the number of colleges. Compared with the figures for the previous quinquennium, the contribution from the provincial revenues towards collegiate education increased by 20.2 per cent while that from fees increased by 54.4 per cent. The total growth in fee-income was 6.9 per cent in Government colleges, 108.1 per cent in aided colleges and 15.5 per cent in unaided colleges.

The total expenditure on education in Arts colleges increased from Rs. 26,51,435 in 1921-22 to Rs. 35,16,844 in 1926-27 making up about 16.7 per cent of the total expenditure on education. Of the total expenditure, 35.6 per cent came from Provincial revenues, 55.8 per cent from fees and 8.5 per cent from other sources. The average annual cost per student was Rs. 379 in Government colleges, Rs. 117 in aided colleges and Rs. 101 in unaided colleges, of which Rs. 250, Rs. 20 and nil, respectively, came from public funds.

4. Secondary Education for Indian boys.—As compared with 1921-22, the number of high schools increased from 878 to 985, Middle English schools from 1,468 to 1,616, while the number of Middle Vernacular schools diminished from 217 to 74. The number of pupils increased from 190,630 to 233,343 in High schools, from 108,582 to 142,684 in Middle English schools, while it diminished from 10,632 to 4,802 in Middle Vernacular schools. The figures are significant. The Middle Vernacular schools, which numbered 349 in 1916-17 with 21,253 pupils, are fast disappearing and it is obvious that they have ceased to meet public demand; in a few years they will inevitably disappear. The Middle English schools, which seemed unpopular in the previous quinquennium, as the numbers of institutions and pupils had diminished from 1,602 and 160,359 in 1916-17 to 1,468 and 108,582, respectively, in 1921-22, showed an unexpected revival in 1926-27 and it seems clear that they will continue to function as useful institutions in the educational system of the province. "The fear expressed in the last report that high school education had ceased to be popular seems unfounded. The number of High schools has increased by 107 and the number of pupils has grown by 42,713. The average strength of a High school has increased from 217 to 237, though this latter figure is still below the minimum average of 300 that is necessary for financial stability. Of the high schools, 52.5 per cent are aided against 43.1 in 1921-22. The proportion of aided Middle English schools in 1921-22 was 62·7 per cent, while the corresponding figure for 1926-27 is 70 5 per cent The extension of the aided system was possible mainly on account of the recurring grant of Rs 3 lakhs sanctioned in 1925-26 for the improvement of the pay of teachers in non-Government secondary schools The grant was distributed on the following principles —

(1) Middle English schools were to receive a small part of the total grant

(2) No aid was to be given to any school unless its permanency was assured and, in the opinion of the Inspector, it was needed for the locality

(3) A minimum scale of Rs 540 (and 11 teachers) was insisted on in the case of High schools to which a new grant was given

(4) No grant, old or new, was to be given where the rate of fees fell below a certain minimum scale

(5) No grant was to be given unless the school had a provident fund for teachers

(6) The minimum grant to a High school was fixed at Rs 100 a month

The control of secondary education, except in the Dacca University area, continued to be exercised jointly by the Department and the University of Calcutta, and the question of placing High and Intermediate education under a Board to be specially constituted for the purpose remained unsolved The University, however, showed considerable interest in the welfare of High schools It insisted on the establishment of a provident fund for teachers and a minimum scale of expenditure as a condition of recognition, and the introduction of the School Code to regulate the management of schools and to safeguard the interests of the teachers was a distinct move in advance

The Dacca Board carried on its work in the midst of considerable difficulties The uncertainty of its existence prevented it from planning any sound constructive scheme, nor could adequate funds be placed at its disposal The Board has, however, succeeded in reorganising the Intermediate colleges and their courses on the lines recommended by the Sadler Commission It has reduced the size of the classes so as to enable individual attention being paid to the pupils and has added to the school the indispensable subjects of History (both English and Indian) and Geography It has also arranged for a course in practical English and instituted an oral test in that language and has introduced Elementary Science as an optional subject for the High School Examination The thanks of Government are due to the President and the members for the keen interest they have taken in this work The achievement of the Board, considering the limitations under which it has been working, was not small It has also instituted a course in Islamic Studies, which has been taken up by Madrasahs even beyond the Dacca University area

The total expenditure on secondary education rose from Rs 84 90 022 in 1921-22 to Rs 1 07,37,075 in 1926-27, of which about 18 per cent (about 19 lakhs) came from public sources, 66 per cent. from fees and 16 per cent from other sources The High schools absorbed most of the increase The average cost per boy was Rs 35 7 in High schools, Rs 16 3 in Middle English schools and Rs 13 6 in Middle Vernacular schools

5 Primary Education for Indian boys.—A certain amount of progress has taken place during the quinquennium in the development of primary education A new and improved curriculum has been put into force and the number of schools has risen during the quinquennium by 2,572 and the pupils by 234,345 and the proportion of boys to the total male population of school-going age has increased from 17 per cent to 20 5 per cent But about 79 5 per cent of boys of school-going age are still unschooled, and the enormous preponderance of pupils in the lowest class is a serious defect in the system of primary education As the review points out, "out of 10 boys who join a primary school, 7 get only a year's schooling or less and for all practical purposes are illiterate" The proportion of wastage seems as high as 70 to 80 per cent—an appalling loss, considering the little that Bengal spends at present on primary education The problems of extending literacy can never be solved simply by multiplying schools and bringing in additional students, unless the boys could be made to go through the full course to prevent lapse to illiteracy At present the system, whether it is on the lines of the Panchayati union schools or of the Biss Scheme, allows extraordinary waste and, as circumstances are, very little progress towards universal literacy is possible The problem is extremely difficult and nothing short of a well-organised and adequately financed frontal attack can solve the problem The resolution of the Legislative Council on the motion of Maulvi Rajibuddin Tarafdar recommending early introduction of compulsory primary education has given, however, a silver lining to the dark horizon A Primary Education Bill providing for funds by taxation and creating duly authorised and competent agencies to utilise the money in accordance with a definite and systematic plan is the only solution of the problem In September 1926, Government issued a resolution sketching the outlines of the Compulsory Primary Education Bill The main features of the proposed Bill are —

(1) In each district a District School Board is to be set up, which will be an essentially non-official body with an official element, to survey the educational needs of the district and to prepare a scheme to provide the necessary schools and teachers

(2) The Board, in addition to the money already allotted for primary education, will be financed by a special cess of 5 pice in the rupee of the annual value of lands and net profits of mines, and an assessment on the non-agricultural classes

(3) With this money the Board will develop primary education within the district

It has since been decided that the Bill will be placed before the Council in the current year In the meantime steps have been taken to introduce a public examination at the end of the primary course in the hope that the prospect of earning a departmental certificate would tend to prolong the connection of the boys with the school and reduce the wastage

6 Education of Indian Girls and Women.—The number of schools has increased and so has the number of pupils There were 364 girls in Colleges in 1926-27 against 228 in 1921-22, 4,801 in High schools against 2,647, 8,269 in Middle schools against 6,640, and 396,056 against 332,694 in Primary schools In the Colleges and High schools the progress was to the extent of 50 per cent, while in the primary stage the increase was slight Adding the figures for the primary stages in Secondary schools, it appears that 99 per cent of the girls at school are in the primary stage, only 1 in 185 is in the middle stage, and only 1 in 278 in the high class Of the number at the primary stage, an overwhelming majority leave school after the 1st year and, in all probability, never attain literacy The increase in the number of girls and of schools is, therefore, no measure of the advance made What is wanted is a more equitable distribution of girls over the different stages, but the social conditions and the general apathy of the people stand in the way of improvement

The most hopeful event in the quinquennium is the interest shown by Bengal women in the problems of female education The first conference of the Bengal Women Educational League was held in 1927, when the various problems of women's education were discussed by women and a continuation committee to carry out a constructive programme was appointed It is hoped that the women of Bengal will be able in time to transform the present man-made system of women's education into a form more acceptable to the women of the country

The demand for higher education among Hindu women is slowly increasing—6 women passed the M A Examination during the period and a small number went abroad for further study, Government awarding two scholarships for the purpose Among Muhammadans, higher education for women has made little progress, only one person graduating in the period under review In the primary stage they outnumbered the Hindus, but that only in the lower classes At the middle and high stages the Moslems are at present in a hopeless minority It is time that the Muhammadan community should seriously consider this aspect of the question and try to evolve means to overcome the obstacles that stand in the way of progress

The experiment on Zenana Education on the lines of the "Parents' National Union Scheme of England" continued under the direction of the Principal, Dacca Training College, and the needle work teachers rendered useful service

The total expenditure on schools for girls rose from Rs 17,11,666 in 1921-22 to Rs 22,07,483 in 1926-27, of which 58 7 per cent came from public funds

7 Muhammadan Education.—The number of Muhammadan pupils rose from 880,374 to 1,139,949, i e, by 29 4 per cent The increase is most marked in Universities, Arts and Professional colleges, and progress at the primary stage is apparent, while there was a relative decline in the high and middle stages, which looks like a continuation of the same tendency noticed in the last quinquennium The numbers in the High Madrasahs rose from 1,196 to 4,204 and in the Junior Madrasahs from 23,840 to 16,795, showing that the Muhammadans still are anxious to retain connection between religion and learning Even allowing for this, one feels that the preferential assistance and the special facilities that are offered for the spread of Muhammadan education might be more adequately utilised than at present Only 115 students passed out from the 17 Higher Madrasahs and 731 from the 521 Junior Madrasahs, a very poor outturn

The most noteworthy events during the quinquennium are—(1) the inauguration of a special course of Islamic studies under the Dacca Intermediate and Secondary Board, equivalent to the ordinary Intermediate Arts course and the affiliation of the Islamic Colleges at Dacca, Chittagong and Serajganj to the Board in this course, (2) the starting of the Islamia College, Calcutta, affiliated to Calcutta University up to the B A standard, (3) the creation of 88 special scholarships for Moslems of values varying from Rs 5 to Rs 25, and (4) the inauguration of the Lord Lytton Fund by Nawab Musharruf Hosain, now Hon'ble Minister in charge of Education, to be utilised for sending a Muhammadan to Europe for study for 2 years

8 European and Anglo-Indian Education.—The number of schools was 62 against 87 in 1921-22, the difference being due to the fact that supplementary and technical classes are no longer counted as separate schools The number of pupils has shown little increase, the number in 1926-27 was 10,821 as against 10,702 in 1921-22 Though there was little progress, a considerable amount of reorganisation and reform was effected The apathy of the Anglo-Indian community towards University education showed signs of gradual disappearance and some links of connection with the University of Calcutta were established The Loreto House and St Joseph's College, Calcutta, prepared boys for the Calcutta Matriculation and Intermediate Examinations St Joseph's College at Darjeeling has also followed suit and there are indications that others may follow On condition that the admission would be cancelled if a student failed to pass the Cambridge examinations, the University have decided to allow students appearing for the Cambridge Senior Local in December to join the first year class in January and those appearing for the Higher Certificate to join the 3rd year class in August, though the usual College session begins in July The way from the Cambridge Local Examinations to the Calcutta degrees has thus been made easy

An important advance is the creation of a higher grade school course leading the curriculum through the last two years "along lines of pre-vocational preparation, with the intention of providing a direct entry into the ranks of skilled industry, for that class of child which must work immediately on leaving school" The high grade schools have primary, middle and upper departments, and it is in the last two classes that in addition to the conventional subjects of English, Arithmetic and Drawing, special attention is given to one or other of the vocational courses, such as Commerce, Domestic Economy, Mechanical Industry and Telegraphy Experience has shown that there are some defects in the scheme, but the experiment is full of promise

The total expenditure in 1926-27 was Rs 38,94,104 against Rs 36,11,840 in 1921-22 Of this, less than one-third, Rs 10,63,381 came from Provincial revenues, Rs 32,443 from Municipal grants, Rs 15,96,792 from fees and Rs 12,01,488 from endowments

In 1924 the Legislative Council rejected the sum of Rs 99,000 provided in the budget for direct grants to non-Government primary schools for Europeans, but the money was eventually found by re-appropriation

9 Backward Classes.—Considerable progress occurred in the education of backward classes The number attending schools and colleges in 1926-27 was 344,179 against 96,552 in 1921-22 Much of the credit of the progress is due to missionaries and to the Society for the Improvement of Backward Classes The progress among the Namasudras continued unabated, in the Chittagong Division the Namasudra pupils

increased by 110 per cent, while in Dacca Division the increase was 68 1 per cent The Southals in the Burdwan and Rajshahi Divisions received due attention at the instance of the local Christian Missionaries The Pods have started schools in Khulna and Jessore

10 Professional and Technical Education.—In the two teachers' training colleges for men—the David Hare Training College and the Dacca Training College—there were 136 students in 1926-27 against 118 in 1921-22 They turn out about 100 trained teachers every year But as the number of teachers in Secondary schools is about 22,000, it is obvious that at this rate it will take more than a century to have half the number trained Obviously there is need for more training centres The David Hare Training College was removed to its new habitation at Ballygunj and is now a well-equipped training college with hostels and play ground attached The Dacca Training College continued to be a centre of research in educational subjects and did excellent work

During each of the years 1925, 1926 and 1927 two State Scholarships were awarded to one Moslem and one non-Moslem teacher to enable them to take a course of training in Great Britain for two years

There is little progress to record in the Normal and the Guru- and Muallim-training schools In 1926 a committee of educational officers was appointed to report on the whole question of training schools, but no decision was arrived at during the quinquennium on their report, owing to lack of funds

The Diocesan College and the Loreto House continued to do useful work for the training of women B T and L T teachers respectively

The number of Law Colleges remains the same, viz, 3 but the number of students has risen from 2,439 to 3,638, i e, by about 50 per cent

The School of Tropical Medicine entered the field of Medical Education during the quinquennium The Calcutta Medical College had 939 students, the Carmichael Medical College 598 and the School of Tropical Medicine 79 The Medical School at Mymensingh was provincialised during this period

The Bengal Engineering College, Sibpur, continued to impart higher training in Engineering Twenty-one students passed the B E Examination in 1927 and 22 the I E The First Diploma Examination at the end of the third year of the course in Mechanical and Electrical Engineering was held in 1923 and the First Associateship Examination after an additional year in Mechanical Engineering in 1924 The Mining class was abolished in 1927, on account of the opening of the Indian School of Mines at Dhanbad The total number of students was 291 as against 356 in 1921-22, of these, 245 were Hindus, 15 Europeans and Anglo-Indians, 2 Indian Christians and 29 Muhammadans The rate of fees was increased in 1926 The total expenditure during 1926-27 was Rs 3,38,692, of which Rs 33,257 came from fees, Rs 3,01,825 from Provincial revenues and the rest from other sources

The number in the Ahsanullah School of Engineering at Dacca has increased from 375 in 1921-22 to 410 in 1926-27, the increase being mainly due to the closing of the subordinate classes at the B E College at Sibpur The classes had to be duplicated and the staff strengthened in consequence Fresh hostel accommodation became necessary and the construction of a new hostel for 200 students was sanctioned in 1926 at an estimated cost of Rs 3,60,000 The cost to Government in 1926-27 on account of the school was Rs 91,821

The demand for the introduction of Agriculture into the curricula of secondary schools led Government to send to the Punjab a small committee of educationalists and agricultural experts to study the scheme followed in that province The report submitted by them recommending the introduction of a four years' course in Agriculture in secondary schools displacing Science, Drawing and Drill, and covering classes V and VI of the Middle English schools with a two years' extension course, or classes V to VIII of a High school, was accepted by Government

The Government School of Art, Calcutta, was re-transferred to the Education Department in 1923 A commercial section has been started as an experimental measure to train students in subjects like Designing, Poster-drawing, Advertising and Illumination Fees were raised in 1924, but the number of pupils increased during the period from 268 to 335 Obviously there is an increased public demand for Art education on more practical lines

Commercial education has grown considerably during the period. The two Universities have started departments of Commerce, and the Dacca Secondary and Intermediate Board has a Commerce group in its course. Several colleges have secured affiliation in Commerce subjects and a number of commercial schools have been opened.

The Government Commercial Institute, Calcutta, was retransferred to the Education Department in 1923 and an expert committee was appointed to report on its future. Their recommendation was against the deprovincialisation suggested by the Bengal Retrenchment Committee. The Institute prefers not to be affiliated to the University, since it believes that "commercial education would have nothing to gain by such affiliation unless this department of the University was reconstructed as a Faculty of Commerce controlled by commercial men as suggested by the Sadler Commission." Classes have been opened to train candidates for the examination of the London Institute of Bankers and for the Bombay Government Diploma in Accountancy. The number on the rolls has fallen from 254 and 545 in the day and evening classes, respectively, in 1922 to 117 and 353 in 1927, while the expenditure has increased from Rs. 37,556 to Rs. 61,523.

11. Pay and prospects of Teachers.—On the recommendation of the Lee Commission, recruitment to the Indian Educational Service has ceased and it has been decided that the posts now included in the All-India services in the Transferred departments should be provincialised. Of the 67 posts in the Indian Educational Service (Men's branch) 43 are now held by members of the service, 3 have been held in abeyance, 8 are vacant, 11 have been filled up on the Bengal Educational Service basis and 2 on special rates of pay. Seven European members retired on proportionate pension. In the Women's branch all the 4 posts are occupied. In 1926-27 there were 24 Europeans and 23 Indians as against 33 Europeans and 27 Indians in 1921-22. There has been little change in the Bengal Educational Service. The teaching and the inspecting branches of the Subordinate Educational Service were reorganised during the quinquennium. The clerical and miscellaneous branches were also reorganized, with effect from 1st September 1921, in terms of Government resolutions Nos. 119 Edn. and 122 Edn., dated the 13th January 1923.

The percentage of Muhammadans holding appointments in Government schools and as inspecting officers is 31.8 in the teaching line and 17.3 in the Inspectorate. The proportion of Muhammadan inspecting officers is not unsatisfactory, but the proportion of teachers needs to be raised.

The staff in non-Government Arts colleges has increased in number from 739 in 1922 to 955 in 1927. The staff is more permanent, better paid, and the creation of provident funds has made the profession more attractive.

The number of teachers in Secondary schools was 21,873 in 1927, which gave an average of 1 teacher to 17 pupils compared to 1 to 16 in 1922. The great majority of the secondary school teachers are not graduates, and trained men are too few. Teaching is still regarded as an unskilled profession and many take it up only to fill up time till more remunerative work is available. Few regard teaching as a satisfactory vocation. The reason is not far to seek. "The salary of the school teachers in Bengal is a miserable pittance, often lower than that of a menial servant or even a casual labourer." Money coming from Government grants has, however, to a certain extent raised the scale of salary in the aided schools, grants being given in many cases when there is an agreement to raise fees and salaries.

The number of primary school teachers has increased during the quinquennium from 44,446 to 52,822, i.e., by 18.8 per cent. The number of trained teachers increased from 10,685 to 11,261, i.e., by 33.4 per cent. In 1922 the trained teachers formed 24 per cent of the whole body, in 1927 the number has risen to 26.9. The increase is encouraging, but the pay usually given still remains below a living wage.

12. Physical and Moral Training.—The report of the Students Welfare Committee of Calcutta University is extremely discouraging. Roughly 25 per cent. of the students in colleges are physically ill-developed, 45 per cent. stoop, about one-third have defective eye-sight; one in three again have bad teeth and one in 20 suffer from some affection of the heart. Only about one in three are of really sound health. These figures make one extremely anxious for the future of Bengal. There is immediate need for both prevention and cure and it is at the school stage that the problem has to be tackled. The resolution passed by the Council on the motion of Mr. A. C. Banerjee to make physical education compulsory for all boys between 12 and 18

reading in schools, madrasahs and maktabs is the Council's pronouncement on the matter and Government are only awaiting the time when improved financial conditions enable funds to be provided to bring a scheme of compulsory physical education and health examination of school children into operation

The Boy Scout movement has made fair progress during the quinquennium, thanks to the energy of the Provincial Organising Secretary, Mr N N Bhose There are 17 local Associations, with 3,384 Scouts, 281 Rovers and 961 Cubs The Guide movement is also spreading among Indian girls, especially in the larger towns

Active moral influences in schools and colleges in Bengal are few The Scout movement as a moral and social instrument has not progressed enough to make an impression on the moral tone of the student population Of religious instruction there is little except in Mission schools, madrasahs, maktabs and tols Intercourse between the teacher and the boy is of a purely official kind—"the closing bell rings and each goes his own way"

13 Conclusion.—The thanks of Government are due to the various officers who have administered the Education Department during the quinquennium under review and to Mr K Zachariah, M A, Professor, Presidency College, for a very able and illuminating report

ORDER —Ordered that copies of the resolution be forwarded to the Government of India, Department of Education, Health and Lands, to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, to all Commissioners of Divisions, and to the Local Self-Government Department of this Government for information

Ordered, also, that the resolution, together with the Report, be published in the Calcutta Gazette

By order of the Government of Bengal
(Ministry of Education),

Secretary to the Government of Bengal

Seventh Quinquennial Review on the Progress of Education in Bengal, 1922-23—1926-27.

CHAPTER I.

Introductory.

1 General statistics.—The Presidency of Bengal, excluding the Native States, has an area of 76,843 square miles and a population, according to the census of 1921, of 46,695,536 The area is smaller and the population larger than that of most other Indian provinces

The Muhammadans form the majority of the population, especially in East Bengal—25,210,802, the Hindus come next with 20,203,527, Christians number 147,081 and other communities 1,134,126

The population is mainly rural There are 116 municipalities, 130 towns with a population of 3,186,300 and 84,981 villages There are 5 administrative divisions and 25 district boards

2 Educational statistics: pupils—

1921 22	6·38	1·54	4·05
1926 27	7·94	1·88	5·02

It should be noted that, for the total population, the census figures of 1921 are taken throughout, so the increase is, to some extent, fictitious

4 General forces affecting education.—At the beginning of the period, the non-co-operation movement had already begun to ebb, and very soon it became clear that, as an active schismatic force in the sphere of education, it had lost its power But its effects were not so rapidly effaced A vague unrest, a slackening of discipline, are still evident, and it is perhaps not a bad thing that the old complacency and satisfaction with things as they are have gone for ever Numerically, too, it took years to repair the losses of 1921, but they have at last been made good and, generally speaking, the figures for 1926-27 surpass all previous records

But the non-co-operation movement had no sooner passed than another great cloud darkened the horizon Under the Meston Award, the financial condition of the province was such as rightly alarmed those in charge of its government Retrenchment was an inevitable necessity, and the Bengal Retrenchment Committee urged educational economies in no sparing measure Fortunately, however, the cloud lifted in some degree and the financial burdens of the province were eased It was not necessary to adopt the drastic regimen proposed But, meanwhile, all schemes of advance had to be suspended and valuable time was lost

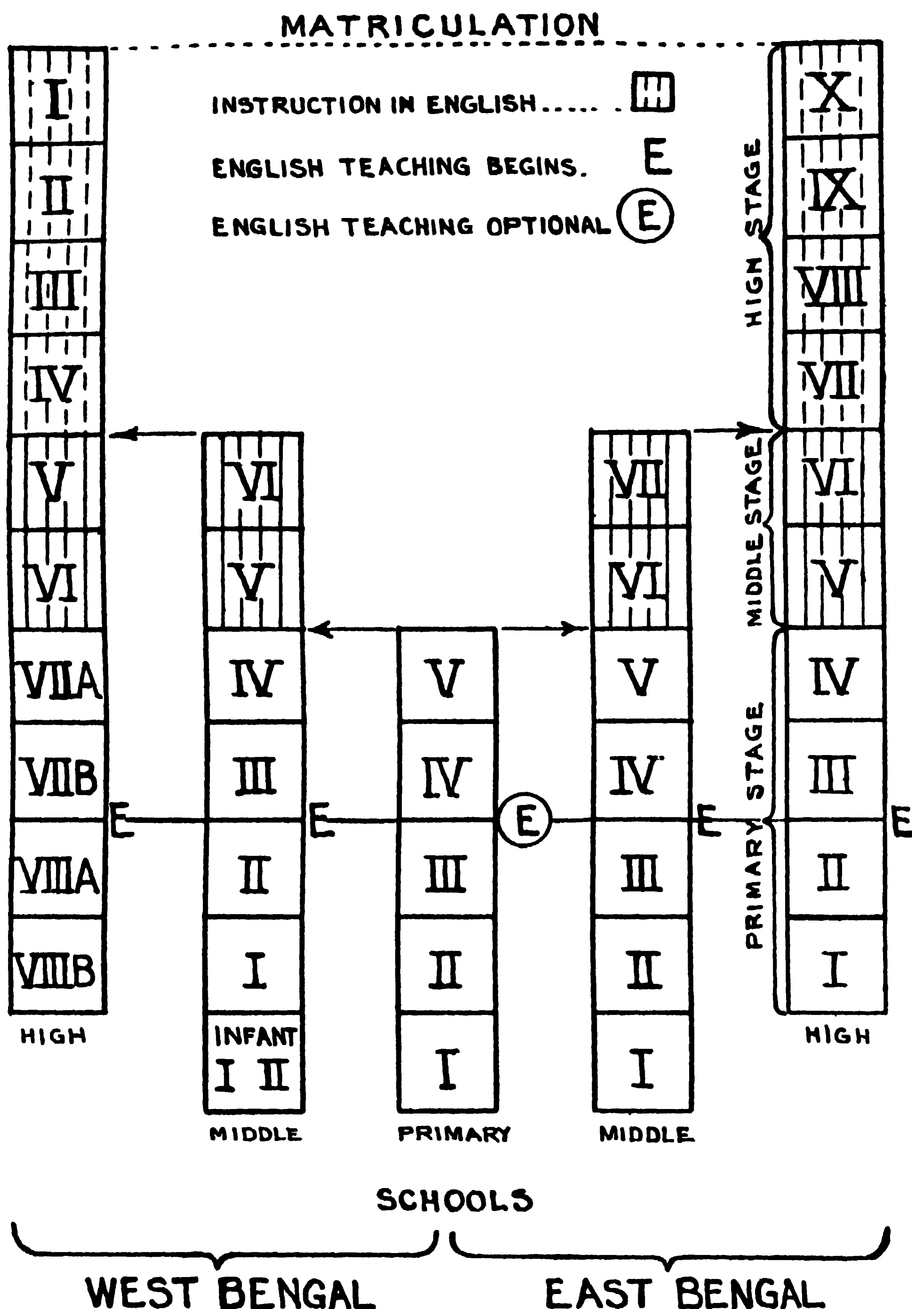
5. Progress of the quinquennium.—It was partly owing to these reasons that no large scheme of reorganisation was undertaken The report of the Calcutta University Commission urged far-reaching reforms affecting the whole system of secondary and University education One change was immediately carried into effect—the institution of Dacca University, and, as a corollary to it, the creation of a Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education for the Dacca University area But Calcutta University continued unchanged Many difficult questions were raised by the proposals of the report, on which opinions differed, vested interests were conservative and strongly entrenched, the money, necessary for radical changes, was not forthcoming; and perhaps there was an unfortunate idea that any reform would weaken the independence of the University or be a confession of failure Nor could any general reorganisation of secondary education be attempted The political conditions were unfavourable and ministries were short-lived, and Government could come to no agreement with the University on the principles involved Primary education has witnessed no striking developments. The scheme outlined in Mr Biss's report was put into operation, only to fall rather flat; and no great progress could be made towards the ideal of a free and compulsory system of elementary education for all the children of Bengal

The period, therefore, was one of quiet recuperation and slow development and not one of revolutionary changes or extraordinary progress But in nearly every department of education, there is something to record, a few yards paintully won and consolidated

6. (i) Primary Education.—Table (i) shows that the number of primary schools increased by over 5,000 and the number of pupils in the primary stage by about 3 lakhs or more than a fifth This is no inconsiderable achievement Two schemes for the expansion of primary education have been steadily followed, so that the growth has been systematic and according to plan



But, on a closer view, it is evident that there is much to be done There is the problem of the relapse into illiteracy, to which perhaps sufficient attention has not yet been given Out of 10 boys who join a primary school, 7 get only a year's schooling or less and, for all practical purposes, are illiterate, out of 20 girls, 17 stop with class I This is a serious defect in the system, but its causes are many - economic and social, as well as educational To some extent the remedy depends on a change of feeling and of social custom in the country at large

In Bengal, again, a large proportion of the funds available for education have been appropriated by secondary and University education In 1926-27, the expenditure on University and intermediate education was, in round numbers, Rs 66 lakhs, secondary schools absorbed Rs 1,28 lakhs and primary schools only Rs 68 lakhs The proportion is as 1 2 1 From this it is clear that the educational system in Bengal is top-heavy, about twice as much is spent on secondary education as on primary The diagram shown below compares the proportion spent on different stages of education in Bengal and in the rest of British India generally As the figures for 1926-27 for India are not available, the figures for 1924-25, the latest available, are taken for both province and country

Proportion of expenditure on different stages of education, 1924-25.

Among improvements should be mentioned the new syllabus for primary schools, which unified the primary course in East and West Bengal. The diagram shown below shows the educational ladder in the province up to the Matriculation stage.

(ii) Secondary education.—The decline of middle vernacular schools continues, but English secondary schools increased in number and, to some extent, in quality—partly as a result of the more stringent conditions imposed for the grant of aid, which many more schools are now anxious to obtain. But perhaps the most noteworthy event is the proposal to substitute the vernacular for English as the medium of instruction and examination in schools, which should come into force in 1930. This is a change of far-reaching importance and, in a province with practically a single vernacular (leaving apart the comparatively small Urdu-speaking population and the minor languages) and that a developed vernacular like Bengali, the experiment starts under the fairest auspices. The period of transition will, no doubt, produce difficulties, but probably none that may not be solved with time, energy and faith. Meanwhile, the problem of the control of secondary education remains in an unsatisfactory state, which the existence of the Dacca Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education has only made more acute.

(iii) University education.—In the sphere of higher education, there is nothing remarkable to record. Dacca University has found itself, and sketched out its own lines of development. In several directions, Calcutta University and its colleges have made advances, in more general provision for science and honours work, in greater attention to health and physical exercise, in the institution of tutorial instruction. The standard of examinations has also, in recent years, been appreciably raised. But, on the other hand, the recommendations of the Calcutta University Commission seem further from realisation than ever, and the multiplication of mufassal colleges, while bringing education nearer to the homes of the scholars, will make it more difficult in future to initiate any scheme for the concentration of higher studies in a few chosen centres.

The diagram below shows the educational sequence and the agencies of control above the Matriculation stage:—

CALCUTTA DACCA

(iv) Professional education.—It is interesting to estimate the volume of the currents that flow from the universities to the higher professional institutions. Exact calculations are difficult, as admission to some professional colleges is after graduation and to others after the Intermediate Examination. But a rough idea is possible. In 1926-27, the number of graduates from the universities was 3,451; in the same year, 786 passed the B.L., 216 obtained the M.B. degree, 109 qualified for the B.T. and 21 for an Engineering degree. The total of professional graduates was thus 1,132. It appears that about one graduate in three qualifies for a professional degree. The proportion between the professions was as follows:—

Engineering, 1; Teaching, 5; Medicine, 10; Law, 37.

No radical change has taken place in the system of professional education.

(v) Industrial and secondary professional education.—Nor has any comprehensive scheme yet been evolved for linking up ordinary primary or secondary education with vocational or professional studies. There has been a considerable development of technical education, but in other respects one can trace no progress. The problem, however, is one of the most difficult that faces the educational statesman and it may be confidently said that no simple solution exists. Only by experiment, by study of the schemes and experiences of other provinces and countries, by the pressure of necessity, by a fresh orientation of primary and secondary education, can any satisfactory solution be discovered.

7 Education of special classes.—In the education of women, progress was chiefly noticeable in the university and high school stages —

High stage	1,044	1,484
Middle stage	1,716	2,243

In the high stage, there was an increase of nearly 50 per cent In the primary stage, the increase is slight and unequal Roughly, out of 7 girls in class I only 1 passes on to class II But the new interest shown by cultured women in the education of their sex is full of significance

In Muhammadan education, what advance there is is at the top, in collegiate education, at the bottom, at the primary stage, and in the Madrasahs

The new Islamia College has been established for the education of Muhammadans

The whole system of European education is undergoing revision and reorganisation A new type of pre-vocational school has been created and a closer connection with the Indian universities is being established

The backward classes are taking more and more advantage of the educational facilities offered to them and some of them are fast reaching a stage of literacy which will justify their removal from this category

The following chapters will survey in more detail the different aspects of the educational system of the province, the general features of which have here been sketched

CHAPTER II.

Administration and Control.

1 Members and Ministers.—The different aspects of education which come within the purview of this report are not all under the same control or entrusted to the same authority Thus, the Weaving Institute at Serampore is in the charge of the Director of Industries and ultimately of the Minister in charge of Industries Over Reformatory Schools and Borstal Institutions the Political Department exercises control European education, as a "Reserved" subject, is left in the charge of a "Member of Council" But education generally is a "Transferred" subject, and the intention of the Government of India Act was that it should be controlled by a Minister, dependent on the Legislature

But, during about half the period under review, there were no Ministers in Bengal In August 1924, the Council refused, for the second time, to vote the salaries of Ministers, who thereupon resigned, and, till the appointment of new Ministers in January 1927, education was, except for a brief interlude in March 1925, placed in the charge of His Excellency the Governor or of a Member of Council and became for a considerable time a "Reserved" subject

2 Legislative Council.—The Minister in charge has, naturally, to explain and defend his educational policy in the Legislative Council, which, as long as Ministers exist, becomes thus the final controlling authority By virtue of its power to pass, amend or reject the budget, to criticise all parts of educational policy and administration, to move resolutions and to ask questions, the Council may, if it wishes, exercise a supreme direction and influence on the education of the province

3 Budget debates.—The annual budget debate provides the best opportunity for a discussion of the educational system, and it was usually taken advantage of, except when political tactics stood in the way Thus the untimely end of the Budget Session of 1925 prevented any of the numerous motions for refusal or reduction of the items of the Education budget from being actually moved Much the same thing happened in the Budget Session of the next year, as the opposition withdrew from the Council during the course of the debate

A very serious situation was created in 1924, when the Council reduced the amount provided in the budget for 1924-25 under the head, "Salaries of Inspecting Officers" (Transferred) by Rs 6,35,400 The Bengal Retrenchment Committee had recommended practically the same reduction and Government felt it should be accepted, if the Council persisted, notices of discharge were accordingly issued on all inspecting officers whose pay was voted

This action naturally created a sense of insecurity in all Transferred Departments In August 1924, however, since the staff affected were essential to the working of the Department, a supplementary demand was put forward and the amount was then voted The action of the Council led, however, to a careful consideration of the possibility of economy in the Inspecting department The same year, the sum of Rs 99,000, provided for grants to non-Government European primary schools was refused—but European education is a "Reserved" subject and Government announced that the money necessary would be found by reappropriation and a supplementary grant submitted for any balance not so made available

4 Dacca University (Amendment) Act.—The one important Act of the period was the Dacca University (Amendment) Act, 1925, which provided for a statutory recurring grant of Rs 5½ lakhs annually for Dacca University There was considerable criticism, which was perhaps due to the feeling that the University would thus be rendered unamenable to public opinion and exempt from the ultimate financial control of the Legislature But the Bill passed when it was made clear that these results would not ensue and that the object was to stabilise the finances of the University and enable it to make contracts ahead with safety

5 Interest in Calcutta University.—The affairs of the University of Calcutta also came up for discussion There was perhaps a fear that Dacca was being treated with partiality, and the finances of Calcutta University were in fact in a state which required aid from Government

A motion for an additional capital grant of Rs 2½ lakhs to Calcutta University in 1923 provoked a lively discussion The conditions attached were criticised, on the one hand, as ungenerous, and, on the other hand, the University was accused of reckless expenditure A settlement was eventually reached and the grant was paid In 1925 a resolution was carried for an annual recurring grant of Rs 3 lakhs to Calcutta University in aid of postgraduate studies and research

In 1923, two private Bills were introduced to reconstitute Calcutta University on a popular basis and to improve its financial administration, but both were withdrawn There was considerable criticism of the strength of the nominated element in the Senate and a demand for a Bill on the lines of the recommendations in the Sadler Report

6 Other motions.—A motion of Dr Hari Dhan Dutt, July 1923, to abolish the Dacca Training College and to transfer the duties of the Dacca Board of Secondary Education to the Vice-Chancellor, Dacca University, was withdrawn In February 1926, a motion of Mr A C Banerjee was passed, that steps be taken to introduce compulsory physical exercise for boys between 12 and 18 in all schools affiliated to the University and in all maktabs and madrasahs In August 1926, a motion of Maulvi Rajibuddin Tarafdar for free and compulsory primary education was accepted by Government and passed in the form "This Council recommends to the Government that steps be taken with as little delay as possible for the inauguration of a system of free and compulsory primary education in Bengal" A motion of Shah Syed Imdadul Haq for the annual provision of Rs 3 lakhs for madrasahs of the old type was lost

7 Questions.—Every year, numerous questions on educational topics were asked, covering a wide range of ground, but often betraying a local or communal bias Members wished for information on the proportion of educational posts reserved for Muhammadans, the respective number of tols and maktabs and the expenditure on them, the provision of educational facilities for the backward classes, compulsory physical training, text-book committees, Government contributions to teachers' provident fund and so forth

8 Director or Secretary.—There remains to be mentioned an important motion, brought forward by Babu Jatindra Nath Bose and passed by the Council in 1923 It ran thus "This Council recommends to the Government that the post of the Director of Public Instruction Bengal, be not filled, on the post becoming vacant by reason of Mr Hornell's retirement or departure on leave" This resolution raised the large and important problem—who was to be the administrative head of the Education Department? The Reforms had transferred the duty of defending the educational policy of the Government in the Council from the Director to the Minister Now the question was, whether the Director was to remain "the administrative head of the department and technical adviser to the Minister" or whether these functions were to devolve on the Secretary Some experiments had been tried, in Bengal or elsewhere In the Punjab, the Director is also the Secretary to Government in the Education Department In Bengal, on the introduction of the Reforms in 1921, the Director was made an ex-officio Deputy Secretary to Government and submitted his cases directly to the Minister, but, after a year, the combination of the two offices was found unworkable in the condition of Bengal, the work being too heavy for one man to carry out The effect of the resolution would have been not to revive the experiment and make the Director the Secretary as well, but to make the Secretary also the Director Apart from the tremendous amount of work this would have concentrated on the same shoulders, the influence of educationists on educational policy would have been much diminished -for, in Bengal, the Secretary must, by statute, be a member of the Indian Civil Service After careful consideration, therefore, the Government found itself unable to accept the resolution

9 The Retrenchment Committee.—The proposal to dispense with the post of Director may have been actuated in part by reasons of economy It arose to some extent out of one of the recommendations of the Bengal Retrenchment Committee, as well as from the fact that Mr Hornell, the Director, was retiring When the quinquennium opened, the financial sky was dark, there was no prospect of a balanced budget, and retrenchment was felt to be imperative The Bengal Retrenchment Committee, constituted to advise Government, did not spare the axe, and their recommendations regarding the possibilities of economy in educational expenditure were drastic to a degree After a thorough inquiry, many of them were rejected, but certain measures were decided upon, the chief of which were these:—

(1) The abolition of a few teaching posts in Government colleges

(2) The gradual reduction of some college posts from the Bengal to the Subordinate Educational Service

(3) The abolition of certain teaching posts in secondary and training schools.

(4) The abolition of two Government middle English schools

(5) The abolition of circle schools, model maktabs and girls' model primary schools

(6) The abolition of certain posts of Sub-Inspectors of Schools

(7) The gradual abolition of posts of Assistant Sub-Inspectors of Schools and Inspecting Maulvis

10 The Educational Services.—The future of the services will be profoundly affected by the decisions reached as a result of the work of the Lee Commission On their recommendation, the Secretary of State has decided that posts now included in all-India services operating in the transferred departments should be provincialised Recruitment to the Indian Educational Service has therefore ceased and local Governments are empowered to constitute new educational services on a provincial basis At present, when no member of the Indian service is available, an appointment is made either on a special rate of pay or in the Bengal Educational Service Government is considering the question of the establishment of a new provincial educational service in Bengal

11 Indian Educational Service.—The end of the Indian Educational Service is thus in sight But the interests and prospects of existing permanent members have been safeguarded by statutory rules framed by the Secretary of State under the Government of India Act. But the numbers are steadily dropping The number of posts in the men's branch remains the same on paper, 67 The post of Head Master of the Victoria School at Kurseong was included in the ordinary cadre as from 29th January 1923, but the post of Professor of Physiology, Presidency College, was abolished with effect from 4th March 1927 But, of the 67, only 43 are now held by members of the Service Three posts are held in abeyance, 8 are vacant, 11 have been filled on the Bengal Educational Service basis and 2 on special rates of pay Seven European members retired on proportional pension during the period

No change has been made in the pay of the service and the number of posts in the selection grade remains the same

In the women's branch, the cadre consists of 4 appointments, which are all occupied

Year	Europeans		Indians		Vacant		Total
	Men	Women	Men	Women	Men	Women	Men	Women
1921 22	30	3	27		10	1	67	4
1926 27	21	3	22	1	24		67	4

12 Bengal Educational Service.—In the men's branch of the Bengal Educational Service, there were in 1922, 211 posts, of which 5 were temporary During the period 11 posts were added to the cadre and 5 abolished The strength on March 31, 1927, was thus 217, including one temporary post

The cadre of the women's branch continued the same, 20 posts

No change has been made in the scale of salaries

13 Subordinate Educational Service.—The last review recorded the details of the reorganisation of the teaching and inspecting branches of the Subordinate Education Services The clerical and miscellaneous branches were reorganised, with effect from 1st September 1921, in terms of Government resolutions dated 13th January 1923 The establishments of the Government Commercial Institute and the Government School of Art, Calcutta, which were re-transferred to the Education Department from the Department of Industries, were also reorganised, with effect from 1st September 1921, in terms of a Government order dated 19th March 1926

At the beginning of the period, the appointments in the Subordinate Service numbered 2,345 But, as a result of the retrenchments already mentioned, the number was reduced to 2,169 on 31st March 1927—1,359 teaching posts, 327 inspecting, 403 ministerial and 80 miscellaneous

At the end of the quinquennium, there were 53 appointments on special rates of pay, of which 11 have been declared special posts

14. Direction.—The new administrative and political conditions have thrown much additional burden on the headquarters staff and the capacity of the office and officers was strained almost to breaking point Time could not be found for touring and touch with the local institutions was interrupted

The staff was therefore strengthened in 1926 by the appointment of an additional Assistant Director of Public Instruction on a temporary basis on the special rate of pay of Rs 800 per month

The pay of the headquarters office establishment was revised, with effect from 1st January 1922, on the lines of the recommendations of the McAlpin Committee

15 Control of Schools.—(1) Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca.—Three bodies exercise some kind of control over schools generally or over certain types of schools The Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca, controls the intermediate colleges and high schools in the Dacca University area as well as the High Madrasahs throughout the province It prescribes the curriculum, conducts examinations, makes rules for the admission and transfer of pupils But its area—apart from the madrasahs—is limited and, for inspection, it is obliged to rely on the departmental staff The Board was created in the first instance as a temporary expedient, but, owing to the failure of attempts to establish a provincial board for secondary education, its existence has been prolonged from year to year,

(2) Calcutta University.—Over all other high schools, Calcutta University exercises some supervision by virtue of its right to grant or refuse "recognition" of schools for the purpose of the Matriculation Examination In the past, the University has often been criticised for granting recognition too easily to schools which, judged by any test, fell below the reasonable minimum of efficiency Having no inspecting staff of its own, the University utilised the services of the departmental inspectors, but often acted against their advice It appeared to aim rather at an increase in the number of high schools than at any improvement of their quality During the last five years, however, a marked change has taken place, and later chapters will relate the efforts of the University to ameliorate the position of the teachers and improve the management of schools

(3) Government.—Thirdly, Government have wide powers of supervision over schools and colleges A small number of institutions are under its direct management, a far larger number are aided by Government Certain conditions, express or implied, are always attached to the grant-of-aid, conditions which enable the Government to influence the constitution of schools, to prescribe curricula, to insist on the adequate remuneration of teachers, and so forth One of the most notable features of the quinquennium was the increase in the number and proportion of aided institutions

(a) The District Magistrate—The control of Government is exercised partly through the District Magistrate, who, as the chief executive officer in the district, has a large voice in the grant of aid and in the constitution of the managing committees of schools To some extent under him are also the khasmahal schools and municipal schools But the chief agency in the exercise of Government control over education is the inspectorate of the Education Department

(b) The inspecting agency—We have referred to the reduction of the inspecting staff as a measure of retrenchment Reference to the table below will show that the axe fell mainly on Sub-Inspectors and Assistant Sub-Inspectors a class which the Retrenchment Committee proposed, in its zeal, to abolish altogether —

Year	Inspectors and second Inspectors	Assistant Inspectors for Muhammadan Education	District Inspectors	Subdivisional Inspectors	Sub Inspectors	Assistant Sub Inspectors and Inspecting Maulvis	Assistant Inspectresses	Inspectresses	Inspector for European Schools.
1921 22	14	5	28	61	268	27	12	2	1
1926 27	14	5	28	61	243	10	12	2	1

In each division, there are, besides the Divisional Inspector of Schools, one or more Second Inspectors and one Assistant Inspector of Schools for Muhammadan Education Each of the two Inspectresses has six assistants under her

16 Duties of different classes of Inspectors.—The Inspector is the chief controlling educational officer in the division and on him, assisted by the Second Inspector, falls the general burden of administration and the inspection of high schools in particular The Assistant Inspector for Muhammadan Education inspects the special institutions for the community and is empowered also to visit all classes of schools to safeguard the interests of Muhammadans

The District Inspector has general charge of the educational work in the district He controls all institutions, save high schools and senior madrasahs, he supervises the work of the Subdivisional Inspectors and may even have direct charge of certain areas, he is also, theoretically, the educational adviser to the District Board But, under the Amended Rules of the Local Government Act, he has ceased to be an ex-officio member of the District Board, although he still is a member of its Education Committee. His duties have of late become heavier, for instance, he has to visit a large number of high schools in connexion with the submission of reports to the University

The Subdivisional Inspectors are in charge of middle English schools, junior madrasahs and guru-training schools The schools immediately under them are few, but they supervise the work of the Sub-Inspectors and form a useful link between the District Inspector and the Sub-Inspectors

The Sub-Inspectors are the lowest rank in this hierarchy and their chief business is to inspect primary schools and maktabs

The reduction in their number and the increase of schools have added to their burdens considerably The complaint is general that they have far too many schools to inspect and consequently their visits tend to be perfunctory The Conference of Directors at Allahabad some years ago laid down 100 schools as a reasonable number for a Sub-Inspector, but in practice this is far exceeded, especially in East Bengal

For instance, in Mymensingh, the average is 235 schools, in Faridpur 251, in Bakarganj 266 and in Chittagong as many as 340 But, in addition to the inspection of schools, the Sub-Inspector has other duties to perform This is the summary of the Inspector for Rajshahi "He has to supply the statistics and data for the statements called for from time to time, in addition to the figures for the annual return, and he has to prepare the proposition statement and the aid bills of primary schools and carry on correspondence with the District Inspector and the District Board" 200 days in the year the Sub-Inspector is required by the rules to be out on tour, but, partly owing to the inadequacy of the allotment for travelling allowances and partly owing to the increase of office work, very few Sub-Inspectors actually satisfy the Regulations, in Rajshahi Division, last year only 1 did so The conditions for which the rules were framed have passed beyond recall. If the duties of the post remain undiminished, it is clear there must be more Sub-Inspectors The complaint is sometimes made that "inspecting officers merely investigate statistics and do not criticise or help in the teaching work, which, after all, is the real part of a school" Insofar as this is true, it is partly to be explained by the pressure of duties—but partly also, no doubt, by the lack of proper training and qualification It is by no means easy to get the right type of man for an inspecting appointment

The total cost of inspection during 1926-27 was Rs. 16,60,785 against Rs 12,48,195 in 1921-22

17 Management of institutions.—Apart from general supervision and control, educational institutions are managed by different bodies The following table supplies the figures —

	Public management				Private management				Total institutions
	Government		District Boards and Municipalities		Aided		Unaided

(1) Government.—It will be noticed that Government manage a high proportion of professional colleges and a few institutions of each of the other types, which are intended either as models or to serve localities or communities which would otherwise be left schoolless There is no doubt that, in general efficiency, Government schools are usually superior and they certainly are considerably more expensive, the staff being much better paid and equipment being more generously provided

(2) District and Local Boards.—The local bodies, District Boards, Local Boards, Union Boards and municipalities, have often their own schools and, in many cases, give aid to private schools The great majority of the schools they manage or aid are primary schools, and over primary education in general large powers have been given to them This is as it should be, but the position of the District Inspector, where he is not a member of the District Board, is anomalous Sub-Inspectors are often under a dual control, that of the Department and that of the Board Nor has the District Board enough funds to aid all the schools adequately, the temptation to which they generally succumb is to give small and inadequate grants to a large number of schools, so that few of them are financially stable Some of the powers of District Boards have been delegated to Local Boards, which now pay the stipends of primary school teachers, but the report comes in from several quarters that this has led to unnecessary delay in payment The Union Boards, which are gradually coming into being, have similar duties A few of them have started primary schools under the Biss scheme

The total expenditure of District Boards on education was Rs 16,11,190

(3) Municipalities.—Municipalities have, in educational matters, the same powers and duties in urban areas as District Boards have in rural areas. Their educational budget is communicated to the District Inspector and his proposals are generally accepted, 3 2 per cent of the ordinary income is a common proportion of municipal expenditure on education, some fall below even this very modest figure Only a few, notably Calcutta in recent years, have given a proper place to education in their budgets The total municipal expenditure on education was Rs 6,34,463

(4) Private agencies.—The part played by missionary agencies in education is still prominent, although relatively less important than 20 or even 10 years ago In many parts of the country and in several distinct fields of education, Christian missions led the way, but the very success of their efforts has broken down the comparative monopoly they once enjoyed In recent years also, the missionary societies have suffered financially from the post-war stringency at home and the vagaries of the exchange, and, in consequence, many of their lower grade schools have had to be abandoned But missionary institutions are still doing valuable, indeed indispensable, work, as is shown by the appearance in the sphere of education of Hindu, Moslem and other missions, which is a marked feature of the quinquennium They, and scarcely any other, provide that religious training, the absence of which from the general system all educationists deplore Their schools and colleges keep up a high standard and command the services of devoted and self-sacrificing men And it is largely the missions that still do pioneer work in educational experiments of different kinds, for example, in the Project method, which has spread far and wide from Moga But their means are generally straitened, and it is with some difficulty that missionary institutions now pay their way

The following table gives statistics of the educational activities of missions for the year 1926-27

CHAPTER III.

University and College Education.

1 Calcutta University: Postgraduate work.—In higher education, there was steady progress in many directions, but no memorable new developments

This was not for want of desire or discussion During the earlier years of the quinquennium, the Sadler Report was discussed by both University and Government and draft schemes proposed—but the schemes differed widely in character and no agreement could be reached This led to an impasse, and, since then, in spite of occasional alarums, things have gone on quietly, along the accustomed way The postgraduate departments have not been remodelled nor the University shorn of its control over secondary and intermediate education The instability of ministries in Bengal has, perhaps, also contributed to this immobility.

A remarkable feature was the decline in the number of postgraduate students In 1916-17, before the concentration of postgraduate teaching in the University, there were 1,258 students in the University classes, not counting 164 attached to colleges In 1921-22, there were altogether 1,234 postgraduate students The figures for the period are shown below —

	M A classes	M Sc classes	Total
1922 23	881	170	1 051
1923-24	1,051	199	1,250
1924 25	994	205	1,199
1925-26	604*	234	838
1926 27	696	293	989

Thus, there was a small, but steady, growth in the science classes and violent fluctuations, indicating in effect a considerable drop, in the arts classes The increase in science is part of a wider movement sciencewards during the period The general decrease cannot be explained merely or even mainly by the foundation of Dacca University, it is partly an indication of a growing disillusionment The M A degree, once it becomes a common and not a rare possession, is not a great asset and brings one no nearer an appointment In part, also, it is due to the smaller numbers who now pass the degree examinations

Whatever the causes, the decrease in numbers caused a serious financial problem A large number of postgraduate lecturers had been appointed, but when the number of students began to fall it became more and more difficult to balance income and expenditure The staff had to be reduced, and equilibrium was finally achieved only by the sanction of a recurring grant of Rs 3 lakhs in August 1925 by the Legislative Council This placed the University, it is hoped, on a comparatively stable basis

A proportion of the postgraduate students are still attached, for tutorial and residential purposes, to colleges In 1926-27, Presidency College had 202 such students and the Scottish Churches College 112 The Muhammadan postgraduate students numbered 59 Women are proceeding to higher studies in steadily growing numbers and in 1926-27, there were 10 of them in the University classes In addition to the postgraduate students, there were 209 undergraduate students in the Commerce classes of the University

The results of the postgraduate examinations show a noticeable raising of the standard —

Candidates	548	424	89	151
Passes	426	265	56	72
Percentage of passes	77 7	62 5	62 9	47 6

Two heavy losses were sustained by the University by the death in 1924-25 of Sir Asutosh Mukherjee and of Mr Bhupendra Nath Basu both Vice-Chancellors, the former for many years This is not the place to appraise the value of the work of Sir Asutosh, but his loss is irreparable, and no one else can take the place he filled in the counsels and in the activities of Calcutta University His name is commemorated in the new Asutosh Buildings of the University, where most of the post-graduate classes are now lodged and by the creation of two professorships by the Senate, an Asutosh Mukherjee chair of Sanskrit and an Asutosh Mukherjee chair of Islamic culture

2 Arts Colleges: Undergraduate Work—(1) Number.—In 1921-22, there were 36 colleges, 33 for men and 3 for women, five years later, there were 4 women's colleges and 41 men's colleges Of these, 13 were second grade or intermediate colleges Seven new intermediate colleges were started during the period, the Nursing Dutt College, Howrah, Saadat College, Karatia, Probhat Kumar College, Contai, all affiliated to Calcutta University, and four others under the Dacca Intermediate Board Four second grade colleges were raised to the first grade rank – Bagerhat College, Midnapore College, Edward College, Pabna and Krishna Chandra College, Hetampur Two new degree colleges were established the Islamia College, Calcutta, and Feni College

Of the 45 colleges, 11 were under Government management, 21 aided and 13 unaided The Midnapore College, which was managed by the municipality, was in 1923 placed under a separate Committee of Management with the District Magistrate as President

The total number of pupils rose from 16,942 to 22,420 during the quinquennium But the highest figure was for 1925-26– 23,437 The Muhammadans numbered 3 131 and their proportion to the total rose from 12·8 to 13·9 per cent The Government colleges had 3,636 students or 16 2 per cent of the total

(2) General features.—The history of the colleges in Bengal in recent years resembles that of the queen in the Arabian Nights who prolonged her life from day to day by promising a new story The highest number of students reached in the previous quinquennium was 21,557 in 1920 Then came the non-co-operation movement, threatening many institutions which depended on fees with destruction This danger had no sooner passed than another appeared in the shape of a demand for science The arts classes were emptied and colleges, which wished to retain their students, found themselves obliged to open science sections, at any rate for the I Sc Between 1922 and 1925, about half the colleges in the mufassal obtained affiliation in I Sc or B Sc, or both, and the number of candidates at the I Sc Examination jumped from 1,922 to 4,332 in five years The consciousness of the depreciation of the B A degree as a marketable asset caused students to flock to a course which they vaguely hoped would have some "vocational" value The same attraction had been exercised for similar reasons by the subject of Economics The tendency was marked in the previous period, but it accelerated greatly after the non-co-operation movement, perhaps partly as a result of it But the hopes built on science were doomed to, at least partial, disappointment It was easier to start I Sc classes than B Sc and many who had passed the I Sc found it impossible to get admission to B Sc classes in the few colleges which possessed them It became clear also that a science degree by itself, especially if it became common had no more value than an arts degree Only about one-fourth of those who appeared for the I Sc were able to proceed to the B Sc course —

	I Sc candidates	B Sc candidates
1916 17	1 269	426
1921 22	1,922	527
1926 27	4 332	1,194

There came a reaction, which only began recently, but is already perceptible The better students again showed a distinct preference for the arts course As a result, colleges tried to increase their attractiveness by offering honours courses, and, during the last years of the quinquennium, many colleges obtained affiliation in honours subjects

All this may be a blessing in disguise That many more colleges have now a wider range of courses to offer is a good thing But the full measure of the blessing will be realised only when colleges and the public generally become aware of the inner meaning of these movements "There's something rotten in the state of Denmark," and these fluctuations indicate a feeling, often unanalysed, that the present courses of higher education are of little practical value for many students

(3) Financial condition.—Meanwhile, the colleges have in many cases found it difficult to make ends meet The expenses of new science laboratories and equipment were partly borne by Government, but the recent drop in numbers, due to causes already mentioned and to the stricter standard of examinations and the increase in the number of colleges, have hit them hard A few instances will make this clear During the last two years, numbers fell in the City College from 2,007 to 1,731, in the Krishnath College, Berhampore, from 1,066 to 937, in the Edward College, Pabna, from 439 to 332 On the other hand, expenses have risen by rise in salaries at some colleges and by the institution of provident funds There are still a few institutions which have no provision for such a fund and in some the contribution of the college is only half of that of the teachers but, as a rule, most colleges pay into the provident fund an anna in the rupee, while the teacher pays an equal amount The financial position of many colleges is thus precarious few of them have any considerable endowments or reserve funds Fees have, in general, been slightly raised; but, for any extraordinary expenditure, most colleges have to depend on Government grants Local generosity may respond to the appeal to start a college, but is not equal to the creation of an endowment or to the continued drain of annual maintenance In a few cases, to the Krishnath College, Berhampore, the Burdwan Raj College, the Comilla Victoria College, the local zamindars give substantial help The new Saadat College, Karatia, is maintained by Maulvi Wajid Ali Khan Panee, whose deed of waqf made provision for the establishment and support of the institution The Probhat Kumar College, Contai, is the child of the liberality of two local patrons But the great majority of institutions depend on fees and Government grants Government aid varies from Rs 2,400 to Rs 24,000 a year, and in 1926-27, the total recurring grant to aided arts colleges under Calcutta University amounted to Rs 1,90,182

The following tables show the expenditure according to sources and on different types of colleges --

	Provincial revenues	Proportion to Total	Fees	Proportion to Total	Other sources	Proportion to Total	Total
	Rs		Rs		Rs		Rs
1921 22	10 41,711	39 3	12,71,953	48 0	3,37,771	12 7	26,51,435

Percentage of increase or decrease	20 2		54 4		- 11 1		+ 32 6

The total expenditure on arts colleges has increased by a third But the rise in the fee income is the most noteworthy feature, by more than half, four-fifths of the total increase is due to the increase from fees The growth of the fee income is greatest, as the following tables prove, in aided colleges, least in unaided colleges It is not due to the increase in the number of students alone In 1921-22, the fees worked out at an average of Rs 75 per head, in 1926-27, they rose to Rs 87 per student Ten years ago they were only Rs 57 :—

The total expenditure increased by little over a fourth, while the fee income increased by more than two-thirds This is due partly to the increase in students and partly to higher rates of fees.

(4) Teaching.—There is little doubt that the quality of teaching has improved in the last five years The staff is more permanent, better paid and more attached to the institution by the creation of provident funds Thanks to grants, libraries have been enlarged and are, on the whole, better used Special mention must be made of the Hindu Academy, Daulatpur—an institution with many attractive features—the library of which contains some rare historical works and manuscripts as well as a small archaeological annexe Nearly everywhere some attempt has been made to introduce the tutorial system, and informal instruction is given to small groups of students But it must be confessed that the aims and methods of tutorial work are too often misunderstood and tutorial work in groups of 25 (as is done in some colleges) is a mere travesty of the real thing The name is there, but not the substance The Rector of St Xavier's College honestly acknowledges that "there is neither sufficient time nor room nor teachers to carry out tutorial work to the extent required by the University Inspectors" And even their demands are modest, they only ask for groups of not more than ten The large colleges especially—and there are some with nearly 2,000 students—find it difficult to arrange for proper tutorial work The fact is, the whole existing system is hostile to it—the crowded classes, the variety of subject groups, the University regulations about lectures, the nature of the examinations The teachers are far too few for tutorial work of the kind done at Oxford

The number of teachers has, however, increased from 739 to 955, although, owing to the great increase in the number of students, the ratio of teachers to students has fallen from 1 22 9 to 1 23 4

The realisation that mass lectures are no longer sufficient is, however, the first step in the right direction

(5) Social life.—There is marked improvement also in the conditions of student life While none of the arts colleges can be properly called "residential," there are a few which may almost justify that description St Paul's College, Calcutta, has splendid hostels which house about half its students At Daulatpur, there is accommodation for 385 boarders The Carmichael College, Rangpur, has 4

well-built hostels and an attractive students' club-house The Scottish Churches College maintains 5 hostels and 2 messes, and the Krishnath College, Berhampore, no fewer than 9 hostels The supervision of hostels is also more satisfactory In most colleges, common rooms for students are provided The interest in, and opportunities for, games, physical exercise and recreation are greater than ever before Especially in the mufassal, ample playgrounds and varied sports (including rowing) are now the rule rather than the exception Two or three colleges have had the wisdom and the resources to acquire large grounds—the Hindu Academy has 130 bighas and the Carmichael College an extensive compound of 950 acres In many Calcutta Colleges, and at Hooghly there are platoons of the University Training Corps Some of them, notably the Vidyasagar College, the City College and St Xavier's College in recent years, have a proud record of athletic success Social service has been encouraged in some institutions, and the "Little Brothers of the Poor" at the Braja Mohan College, Barisal, does social work which does not altogether belie the name they share with the order of St Francis

The missionary colleges give religious teaching, and the same ideal of education pervaded by the spirit of religion animates the Daulatpur Academy

(6) Examinations.—The raising of the standard, which we have noticed in the M A and M Sc Examinations, is more marked in the other University Examinations —

	I A		I Sc		B A		B Sc
	1921 22	1926 27	1921 22	1926 27	1921 22	1926 27	1921 22	1926 27
Candidates	3 768	3,930	1,922	4,332	2,586	2 903	527	1,194

Percentage	65 1	46 7	74 9	46 05	72 3	37 3	68 8	47 5

Examinations may be made too hard, on the other hand, examinations in Calcutta tended in the past to be too easy And in so far as the raising of the standard may lead to a corresponding improvement in the teaching, it is all to the good The last quinquennium revealed a movement in the opposite direction, the percentage of passes steadily rose Now the tide has begun to ebb But it must not be forgotten that a low percentage of passes is not an end in itself and is only one of many forces that can help to improve the quality of the teaching

(7) Government colleges.—Of the Government colleges, a more detailed description is necessary The general statistics are given below —

	Number of students	Total expenditure	Expenditure from Provincial funds	Total average cost per pupil	Cost per pupil to public funds
		Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs
Presidency College	1,044	4,94,167	2,35,606	468	223

Rajshahi College	828	1,79,275	1,06,267	222	131

It is worth noting that in the Presidency College, of the total cost, high though it is, less than half is met from provincial funds

3 Presidency College.—The numbers in the Presidency College have remained more or less steady In 1921-22, there were 979 students and five years later 1,044, including attached postgraduate students in each case No considerable additions have been made to the College buildings, except the provision of a dark room for the Astronomical Laboratory

As a result of the alarming state of things revealed by the examination of students by the University Welfare Committee, it was decided to make physical exercise compulsory for the first and third year students Since 1925 this has been in progress and, after the close of the period, a fully-qualified Instructor was appointed The ordinary athletic activities of the College were carried on, with keenness and good will, if without any striking success A second platoon has been started in connexion with the University Training Corps

The College Union was completely overhauled and reorganised in 1925-26 The Founders' Day was celebrated each year, the Visitor—His Excellency Lord Lytton—presiding in 1925 A special attempt was made to attract old students to this and other functions at the College and in 1926 a remarkable gathering was held of ex-students who had graduated at least 50 years ago The compilation of a Historical Register of the College was taken in hand—no small task and perhaps the first of its kind in India—and the work was published after the end of the period The different college societies, now all amalgamated in the Union, have continued their activities without interruption

The academic work of the College maintained its high level The results in the University Examinations were uniformly good The library, which now contains nearly 45,000 volumes, was well used Tutorial work was done regularly for all students and in all subjects, and careful records were kept

The discipline of the College throughout the period was excellent

But the most significant event in the history of the College was the appointment of the Presidency College Committee in 1923 as a result of the report of the Bengal Retrenchment Committee, which proposed indeed the retention of the College, but maintained there was room for economy The Committee was unable to meet earlier than August 1924, but 19 meetings were held altogether and two ad interim reports and one final report were submitted to Government, covering all matters connected with the administration and working of the College

The Committee recommended, not without the dissent of a minority, that ultimately the full control of the College should be devolved on the Governing Body under conditions which secure the future position and usefulness of the College, an adequate statutory grant being given by Government and the improvements suggested by the Committee being first carried through This is a large question and Government has, as yet, taken no action on it

To put the College in a satisfactory position, the Committee proposed that the scheme of extension planned before the war, but interrupted by financial stringency, should be completed at an approximate cost of Rs 15 lakhs Room would then be provided for the much-needed College Hall, new lecture and tutorial rooms, quarters for the Principal, servants' quarters, as well as for two playing-fields in the College area A beginning has already been made and, in 1926-27, a block of land jutting into the College area was acquired at a cost of nearly 2 lakhs In the budget of 1927-28, provision has been made for the acquisition of more land, for a new observatory building and other minor improvements

The proposed increase in the maximum number of students admitted was sanctioned by Government The new maxima are 420 in arts and 480 in science, not including 225 attached postgraduate students The fees were also increased in accordance with the recommendation of the Committee The admission fee was raised from Rs 10 to Rs 16. For the classes, instead of the previous uniform rate of Rs 12, the following scale was adopted —

	Rs.		Rs
I A	14	I Sc	.. 15
Pass B A	15	Pass B Sc	16
Honours B A	16	Honours B Sc	.. 17
M A	17	M Sc	.. 18

As a corollary, provision was made in the report for a much larger number of studentships Instead of 12 free studentships of Rs 12 each, it was proposed to have 60 half-free studentships for undergraduates of Rs 7 each and 15 for postgraduates of Rs 8 each

Muhammadan students were to have 100 half-free studentships, including 60 Mohsin stipends. On this point, Government have yet passed no orders.

Far-reaching changes were recommended in the staffing of the College, the principle being the gradual substitution of a college cadre for the existing service system. The 15 existing posts in the Indian Educational Service were to be replaced by the more economic grade of professors on Rs 650—50—1,000, 4 carrying an allowance of Rs 50—50—200. The Bengal Educational Service posts were to give place to a grade of Readers and Lecturers on Rs 250—700, 4 of the senior Readers getting an allowance of Rs 100. The 7 teaching laboratory assistants were to be called demonstrators and placed in the grade of Rs 150—10—400. The non-teaching assistants were to have a salary on the scale Rs 50—5—150. The last two of these proposals have been carried into effect and new appointments of lecturers are now made on the scale Rs 250—700.

The staff has also been materially strengthened. Government have sanctioned the conversion of the Astronomy demonstratorship into a lecturership and the appointment of an additional lecturer in Mathematics, Physics, Sanskrit, Arabic, and of another demonstrator in Chemistry and in Physics. Some extra non-teaching assistants' posts have been sanctioned for the Science departments.

The Committee also made proposals for co-operation between the College and the University, on the general principle of reciprocity. But on this point, no fresh action has yet been taken.

4. Sanskrit College.—In the Sanskrit College, there are signs of reviving popularity. The number of students in the English department rose from 72 to 103, although even the latter figure is far below that for 1917, when there were 238 students. The small number is accounted for by the absence of science classes, the lack of hostel accommodation and the fact that students of the College have in addition to the ordinary University courses, to undertake a special course in Sanskrit. Owing to the fall in numbers, and in pursuance of the policy of retrenchment, the staff was reduced. Three posts were abolished, a professorship in Sanskrit in the Bengal Educational Service and a lecturership in Philosophy and in English. But the reduction of staff has, in the opinion of the Principal, affected the efficiency of the teaching especially in Sanskrit. Affiliation in Mathematics was secured up to the I A and a lecturer on the subject appointed. Honours students in different subjects attend the Presidency College, as before.

A College Union was established in 1924, the centenary year of the College, which runs a debating club and a magazine. The Union has done good work in developing the social side of the College and in fostering a spirit of comradeship. In spite of the lack of playing space, considerable attention has been given to games, especially to such as do not require a large field—basket ball, badminton and gymnastics. In basket ball the College has had some good teams.

Many of the students are very poor, and during the period Government created in the College department 20 concession rates of fees at Rs 2 per month, in addition to 40 permanent concession rates, for the benefit of the sons of poor pandits.

The Oriental or Tol department is described in Chapter XIII.

The results of examinations are given below:-

1926-27	Appeared	Passed	Percentage
I A	18	11	61 1
B A	21	9	42 8

The future of the Sanskrit College caused Government some anxiety and, in August 1923, a Committee was appointed to consider the whole question of the English department and the Sanskrit department and of Sanskritic studies in Bengal generally. The Committee investigated the points at issue very thoroughly in 43 meetings and presented a report in October 1926, a preliminary report having been submitted in March 1924.
